SENATOR TILLMAN DENOUNCES BLEASE

In an Open Letter, Calls on Governor to Meet Criminal Charges.

BLEASEISM NOT TILLMANISM

Says One Means Personal Ambition And Greed for Office and Other Rule of the People—"Be a Decent Governor"

Spartanburg, S. C., August 31.—In an open letter to Governor Cole L. Blease, Senator Benj. R. Tillman, in characteristic language resents the oft repeated assertion in this State recently, that Bleaseism is Tillmanism.

The Senator asks Blease to meet the criminal charges that have been brought against him, denounces his methods and urges him to try to be a "decent Governor."

"Tillmanism means genuine Democracy, the rule of the people—of all the white people—rich and poor alike, with special privileges and favors to none; with equality of opportunity and equality of burden to all," says the Senator. "Bleaseism, on the contrary, means personal ambition and greed for office—the office to be used not for the welfare of all the people and of the State, but for 'Blease and his friends; none others need apply.'"

Further, he says "you never shall, if I can prevent it, carry out your threat to make the people of South Carolina 'sweat blood' because so many of them have not been bamboozled and debauched by your demagogic appeals."

Again referring to the difference between Tillmanism and Bleaseism, he says:

"I want those who consider Bleaseism as Tillmanism to take this contrast into consideration when they make up their final judgment. Tillmanism, as Tillman preaches it and has always preached it, is noble, high and elevating. Bleaseism is selfish, low, dirty and revengeful."

The Senator rejoices in the vote he received in the recent primary from those who have always opposed him, but charges Blease with having stolen the vote of the old line Tillmanites from him. He tells the Governor he has lost the respect of Mrs. Tillman who had in the past defended him because of his recent statement as to what took place when Blease called on him in Washington. The Senator says Mrs. Tillman "knows you told an untruth" about that interview.

Concluding his letter, which is more than three thousand words in length, he says:

"If you can clear yourself of the foul accusations made against you in the Governor's office and will pursue a wholly different policy hereafter there is some future for you in the State yet. If you do not your name will go down in history as the very worst native South Carolinian who was ever Governor, Moses, not excepted. I repeat you are 'eminently qualified to be Governor so far as brains go, and if you reform and make good in the two years you have yet to serve in that office, the people may forgive you. But you must be Governor of the whole people and not of your friends alone and they will take care of your future destiny, always supposing that you clear yourself of the infamous charges that have been brought against you. For, unless you do that, you can never hope to aspire to higher promotion, for the people of South Carolina will never send to Washington a man not above suspicion. For the honor of the State I hope you can and will clear yourself. May God forgive you for the sins you have committed against yourself and the people of this State.

"Governor Blease, you are given another opportunity. Will you make use of it and show that you are a man and not a demon? Put the devil behind you and be the Governor of all the people instead of your friends alone."

SAMPSON REPUBLICANS

Entire County Ticket Put Out at Clinton Yesterday

(Special Star Telegram.)

Clinton, N. C., August 31.—The Sampson County Republican convention was held here today. There were many candidates for the county offices and the convention was well attended. The meeting was addressed by ex-Senator Marion Butler who was made chairman of the convention.

The following candidates were nominated: For the Legislature, Capt. C. M. Faircloth; sheriff, I. T. McLamb; register of deeds, J. H. Packer; treasurer, T. E. Owens, present incumbent; commissioners, J. R. Peterson, I. L. Jackson and W. P. Ward; coroner, J. O. Matthews; surveyor, Arthur Lee.

Ex-Congressman Fowler precipitated a heated discussion by offering a resolution favoring salaries instead of fees for county officers. He was opposed by George E. Butler. The resolution was overwhelmingly defeated.

STATE WITNESSES ARE DISAPPEARING

Men Expected to Furnish Valuable Evidence Cannot Be Found.

VICE TRUST OFFERS BRIBE

Syndicate of 32 Disorderly Houses in New York Sets Aside Fund of $50,000 For the "Delivery" of Whitman.

New York, August 31.— Another witness for the State in the Rosenthal murder case has mysteriously disappeared, according to information obtained today at the office of District Attorney Whitman. The man's identity was not revealed, but the value of his testimony to the prosecution is of such importance that detectives were dispatched tonight to Philadelphia on a trip that he had gone there, with instructions to bring him back if they located him.

The man has been missing for several days and his absence appears to have caused considerable anxiety at the District Attorney's office, as he is said to be in a position to give sensational evidence bearing upon the alleged gambling graft operations of Lieut. Chas. Becker, accused of instigating the murder of Herman Rosenthal.

In view of the sudden departure for Europe of Thomas Coupe, another witness, and the mysterious absence of Frank Walsh, also a witness, suspicion were expressed by the District Attorney's office tonight that influence was being exerted to get as many State witnesses as possible out of the way before Becker's trial, scheduled to begin September 10th or 11th.

The witness reported missing tonight is said to have been one whom the District Attorney has been keeping in the background to spring a surprise at the trial of Becker, as he has not testified before the grand jury. His testimony would help to establish a motive, it was said, for the killing of Rosenthal, in connection with Becker's alleged relations with gambler.

In gathering evidence for the proposed John Doe investigation of police alliance with gambling and disorderly resorts, it was stated today by one of the District Attorney's assistants that the so-called "vice-truts" of 32 disorderly houses raided on August 5, had set aside the sum of $50,000 out of its profits as a corruption fund for the "delivery" of the District Attorney. Although a number of these houses were opened after the raid which was conducted by assistant District Attorney Smith and agents of the Society for the Prevention of Crime, they reiently closed again. Fear of a repetition of the raid from the District Attorney's office is the reported reasons. The $50,000 raised represented, it was said, one week's receipts of the inmates of the 32 houses operated by the trust who, during that time, were compelled to give up to the "syndicate" their personal profits.

Though subterranean channels word was conveyed to the District Attorney's office that the $50,000 was forthcoming in payment for the privilege of operating without molestation.

It was said lobbing was feared by the syndicate from the police. Detectives from the District Attorney's office assigned to "negotiate" with the heads of the "trust" have procured evidence of the proffered bribe, it was said, which would be presented during the John Doe proceedings.

Tables have been turned by many gamblers upon whom the police have been wont to levy blackmail, it was reported today. Taking advantage of the prospect of prosecution which faces some of the grafters in the police department, victimized gamblers have been demanding protection from the former grafters as the price of silence, it was said, and have obtained it.

New York, Aug. 31.—Billy Bennett, lightweight champion of Ireland, made his first appearance in this country tonight at the St. Nicholas Athletic Club, outboxing Johnny Moore, a local boy, in seven rounds of a 10-round bout. Bennett showed some fast foot work and used both hands to advantage.

Amoy, Aug. 31.—A violent typhoon swept Fuchow Thursday night and caused great loss of life and damage to property. Steamers from the north report the sea off the mouth of the Min river strewn with hundreds of bodies.

Colon, Aug. 31.—Miguel De La Espriella, a cashier in the custom here, has been missing since yesterday. It is alleged that his cash is short more than $30,000. He is to have gone by steamer to Cartag

MEXICAN REBELS LYNCH DYING BOY

WILL PROTECT FOREIGNERS

American Ambassador Receives Assurance That Foreign Residents of Cananea and Sonora Will Be Protected.

Mexico City, August 31.—Assurance that immediate action would be taken to protect the foreign residents of Cananea, and Sonora, was given Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson today, when, acting under instructions from the State Department, he protested against the withdrawal of troops.

Some 2,000 Americans in Cananea regarded their plight as precarious, according to the Ambassador's message from Washington. Until two days ago the government had maintained troops there and the residents and managers of the huge mining interests located at Cananea felt reasonably safe. Rebels under command of Mascarelos and other leaders have drawn close and have sent a message that they soon will take possession of the rich mining camp. It is presumed that Gen. Huerta soon will have an operation in that region a number [illegible] ing columns.

Advices to the American embassy are that more bridges along the line of the Southern Pacific between Guayamas and Nogales have been destroyed by rebel. Official advices are that the rebels are being driven from the State. Rebels in the State of Vera Cruz are displaying the same savage instincts that characterize the Zapatistos in the south. At Estanzuela, a station on the Vera Cruz and Pacific Railway a smal band hanged a a man named Jose Bay, to a rafter in his house because he refused them money. Death was delayed by repeated lowering of his body to the floor. The same band later in the day tortured and killed two other men in a neighborhing ranch. Another band operating in the same district hanged a dying boy.

Toluca, capital of the State of Mexico, reports a continuation of a condition, alomst chaetic. With the exception of Zacualpam and Villa Guerrero, all the villages in the surrounding district are in the power of the rebels.

Two Carbajal brothers have offered 2,000 pesos for volunteers to protect their property in that State. Two months ago the Zapatistas slaughtered another brother of that family.

In Morelos the Zapatistas have shown renewed activity, yesterday sacking Yecapixtla, not far from Guernavaca.

American Ranch Attacked.

San Luis Potosi, Mexico, August 31.—The ranch belonging to American vice-consul Frank A. Dickinson, of this city, known as "Peralta" in the district of Abasalo, Guanajuato, was attacked by rebels for the third time on the night of August 28, according to advices received today.

The raiders numbered more than 200 and entered the ranch with "vivas" for Zapata. They took away every thing of value on the place.

Protection had been asked of the Mexican authorities. The administrator says there are 1,800 rebels or bandits in the immediate vicinity, hidden in the mountains, and the available government forces to resist them is not more than 200 men.

The assurance given the rebels that "Peralta" was an American-owned property had no effect.

Brown was made chairman by the Republicans and J. G. Vause of the new party.

LAYS DEFEAT TO TWO-THIRDS RULE

Champ Clark Says He Was Entitled to the Democratic Nomination

PREDICTS SWEEPING VICTORY

The Speaker Tells Massachusetts Democrats That He Hopes to See a Democratic House, Senate and President

Canobie Lake, N. H., Aug. 31.—Champ Clark told Democrats of Massachusetts at their outing here today that he believed now and would always believe that he was entitled to the Democratic nomination for President this year.

"But under the two thirds rule Wilson and Marshall were nominated and I never bolted a Democratic ticket and never will," he said. He added that the formation of a third party at this time was needless.

"If the Republicans believe in Progressive ideas let them come into the Democratic party," he said.

The tariff, high cost of living, direct election of United States Senators and kindred subjects were discussed at length by Speaker Clark.

After praising the work of the present House of Representatives he said that the cost of living had gone up 60 per cent in the last 15 years, while wages had increased only 21 per cent, and he added:

"There is no hope of remedial legislation as long as the three branches of the government are not of the same political faith. I hope to see the election of a Democratic House, a Democratic Senate and a Democratic President.

"The tariff ought to be reduced to a revenue or competitive basis and be removed entirely on the most necessary articles of food, while the trusts should be abolished utterly. There are laws enough [illegible]ich the trusts if they were honestly, conscientiously, vigorously and patriotically enforced, which they are not."

BULL MOOSE ENDS TOUR OF VERMONT

Roosevelt Closes Three-Day Campaign With Speech at Brattleboro.

PLEADS FOR STATE TICKET

The Colonel Tells People They Can Best Serve Progressive Cause By Voting for the State Ticket Tuesday

Battleboro, Vt., Aug. 31.—The campaign of ex-President Roosevelt in Vermont came to an end here tonight. After three days of hard fighting, the Progressive party leader said that he felt well repaid for his trip.

"It was quite extraordinary," he said. "It looks pretty good up here in Vermont.

Col. Roosevelt was well satisfied, he said, with the outlook in Vermont over the November election, but showed concern over the prospects for the Progressive State ticket in the election next Tuesday.

"I want to send a last message to the people of Vermont," he said here tonight in the final speech of his tour. "I have heard all tarough Vermont, from men who have said that they would vote for me in November, and that I would carry the State, but that in the State election next Tuesday they would not leave the Republican or the Democratic party to vote for the Progressive ticket.

"Those of you who take this view are playing into the hand of the Archbolds and the Penroses. Outside of the State the result of this election is being waited with eager interest. Those of you who wish to help me can best do so by voting for the Progressive State ticket."

Col. Roosevelt spoke first today at Barre, then went to Randolph and Bellows Falls, and wound up his tour here tonight. At several towns along the way crowds were out to meet him [illegible]

After his speech here the Colonel left for Oyster Bay. He expects to reach his home in the morning to stay there over night. From there Monday he leaves on his Western tour.

Winston Churchill, the New Hampshire novelist, met Colonel Roosevelt at Randolph and completed the day's trip with him. Mr. Churchill said that a complete Progressive ticket would be put in the field in New Hampshire. Mr. Churchill, who several years ago made an unsuccessful campaign for the Republican nomination for Governor, was asked whether he expected to be the Progressive candidate, and said he thought it might turn out that way.

KITCHIN AT ELIZABETHTOWN

Governor Heard by Mixed Crowd In Bladen—The Moosers

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Elizabethtown, N. C., August 31.—Governor Kitchin was heard here today by 125 to 150 voters. He made his usual attack upon the record of Senator Simmons. The crowd was small, but attentive, and was divided into three classes, Kitchin, Simmons and Moosers, the latter having adjourned their convention and going to hear the Governor speak. For two hours Governor Kitchin lined out the Senator's shortcomings, and made a strong plea to his hearers to go home, and work till November, and vote for Wilson, Craig and W. W. Kitchin. The Governor admitted he was not as strong in Bladen as he once was, and paid his respects to his one-time supporters, who have gone wrong, and are supporting Simmons instead. Immediately after the seaking an elegant dinner was served in picnic style, which everybody enjoyed. The Governor was introduced by J. Sprunt Newton, Esq., of the Fayetteville bar.

The Bull Moose wing of the Republican party met at the Court House this morning and organized. R. S. White, Esq., was made county chairman, and the convention was called to meet September 17th to name a ticket.

TAFT MEN OUSTED

California State Committee Turns Things Over to Progressives

San Francisco, Aug. 31.—Eleven members of the Republican State central committee, voting the proxies of 12 other members, gave the control of the Republican county central committee into the hands of the Progressives today when they decided that Fred G. Sanborn, former harbor commissioner, was no longer chairman of the organization and that Chas. Forbes had ceased to be its secretary.

The ousted men are Taft supporters and the charge against them was that they solicited funds for the Taft campaign without authorization from the State central committee, which is controlled by the Roosevelt faction.

KITCHIN VS. SIMMONS

(Communicated).

Mr. Kitchin says that no man who respects his Democracy can vote for Mr. Simmons because of his record on the tariff, with special reference to his votes on reciprocity.

The record shows that a majority of the Democratic Senators voted oftener with the majority of the Republican Senators on reciprocity than did Mr. Simmons, and that every vote of Mr. Simmons with the Republican majority on reciprocity was for lower tariff duties.

The State convention has endorsed Mr. Simmons' Democracy. Who is the higher authority on Democratic creed, the State convention of Mr. Kitchin?

The Democratic Senators made Mr. Simmons minority leader and placed him in charge of tariff legislation. Who is the higher authority on Democratic creed, the Democratic Senators or Mr. Kitchin?

It is wonderful how a man can obscure facts and violate sound rules of reasoning when he wants another man's job.

Mr. Simmons is the man who does things—this is what hurts Mr. Kitchin.

Today's contest, a stirring pitcher's battle between O'Brien and Coombs, was played before a crowd of 30,000 people. O'Brien, although wild, was strong in the pinches. Philadelphia's only run came in the ninth on Barry's double and two infield outs.

O'Brien's hit knocked in Boston's first run, sending home Stahl, who had singled and reached second on a sacrifice, and third on an infield out. Boston's second run came in the 8th. Speaker, who received a base on balls was sacrificed to second, stole third and raced home on Lapp's poor throw.

Visits His Old Home.

The numerous friends of Mr. John C. Chase, formerly of Wilmington, but now in business at Derry, N. H., are giving him a cordial welcome. He will be here a few days on business. Mr. Chase is now treasurer of the Benjamin Chase Company, of Derry, N. H., of which Mr. Benjamin Chase is president. They manufacture wood labels and plant stakes, and their business extends all over the country, including a large territory in the South. It is like coming home for Mr. Chase to come to Wilmington so far as Derry is concerned it can consider itslef as only having borrowed Mr. Chase.

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

Misses Katherine Peterson and Emily Gayle, of Whiteville, are spending the week-end at the beach.

Dr. L. E. Ricks, of Fairmont, N. C., is spending a few days at the beach, a guest of Mr. H. E. Bonitz, at the Hanover Club.

Mr. Chas. H. Priest, Baltimore, and Misses Lily and Ethel Carter, of Wallace, were among the arrivals yesterday at the Hanover Inn.

Mrs. S. W. Gunnison and Miss Marion Gunnison have returned to Atlanta, after a pleasant stay of some days at the Hanover Inn.

The dining room of the Seashore Hotel was closed for the season yesterday morning after breakfast. The guests at the hotel will be served meals at the cafe just across the car tracks.

Manager Couch, of the Oceanic Hotel, entertained a number of guests at the hotel yesterday morning on a delightful sail in Banks Channel, one of Captain Salter's boats being used for the outing.

Last night's arrivals at the Hanover Inn included: E. C. Todd, Maxton; W. R. Kennedy, Pittsburg, Pa.; D. D. Hawkins, Savannah, Ga.; Miss Cullen Battle, Atlanta; T. C. King, Anniston, Ala.; G. T. Johnson, Spartanburg, S. C.

A number of South Georgia people are booked for September at Hanover Inn, and Manager Williams says that he confidently expects the average "house count" for September to run right up to the August record at this popular hotel.

Capt. Oscar Salter, in charge of the Oceanic Hotel fleet of boats, will remain at the beach for two weeks longer for the accommodation of any who desire to go fishing. Fish are biting splendidly now and all parties taken out recently have had fine catches.

Dr. A. H. Harriss, of Wilmington, left yesterday afternoon on a vacation of two weeks. He will cruise in his launch by way of the sound and inland water route as far as Morehead, and will arrange the other details of his trip upon his arrival there.

It was stated at the Oceanic Hotel last night that there are 150 guets at the popular hostelry for the week-end. This is considered an upusually large number for this late in the season and indicates that fine business may be expected for some weeks yet.

The usual Sunday concert will be given today at noon at the Oceanic Hotel. The concert will begin at 12:30 and continue until 2 P. M. An attractive programme has been arranged by Mr. John F. Kneisel, the director. Beach visitors and cottagers generally are cordially invited to attend the concert.

Arrivals last night at The Oceanic Hotel were: W. J. Young, Atlanta; J. R. Emery, Baltimore; H. B. Mitchell, Chicago; John K. Coil, Columbia, S. C.; W. A. Rudeger, Baltimore; J. S. Stowstreet, Lousiville, Ky.; Ruth Leman, Byron Leman, Miss Annie White, Whiteville; C. M. Mackie, Baltimore; T. H. Martin, Detroit; L. A. Morris, Atlanta; J. Seeley, New York City; Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Griffin, Sanford, N. C.

The programme for today's concerts at Lumina include many fine selections that are great favorites with those who attend these concerts. On the programme for the afternoon concert are Sextette from "Lucia," "Bohemian Girl" selections, a collection of Southern melodies, medley of popular college songs and a duet for the flute and clarinet. Among the numbers on the night programme are grand selection from "Faust," the Egyptian ballette Suite, Medley of German Folk songs. The complete programme will be found published in the advertising columns of today's paper.

Among yesterday's arrivals at the Oceanic Hotel were: S. P. Solomon, Macon, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Fussell, Olive S. Lea, Miss Vara Lea, Tarbor, N. C.; Miss Maude Bryson, Boydton, Ga.; R. T. Fennel, R. L. Sturgis, S. J. Kimball, F. A. Dunlap, Rock Hill, S. C.; Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Martin, S. Kalish, Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. T. Page Ricaud, Mrs. Dan Pate, Bennettsville, S. C.; H. M. Ensign, Huntington, W. Va.; J. W. Armstead, Jr., Greensboro; E. E. Thomson, Durham; J. A. McKinnon, Maxton; P. T. Whilden and P. T. Whilden, Jr., Birmingham, Ala.; P. J. Carlton, Mullins, S. C.; E. H. Hale, Charlotte; M. E. Hunter, Norfolk; G. M. Graham, Atlanta.

Mrs. Frank Pearson will end her engagement at Lumina for this season with tonight's concert. Her name appears on the programmes for both the afternoon and night concerts. This afternoon she will sing "Oh, Promise Me," and at the night concert, "Goodbye, My Love, Goodbye." Mrs. Pearson has had a remarkably successful season this Summer at Lumina and there is no doubt that large crowds will be attracted to the pavilion today to take advantage of this last opportunity of hearing this gifted singer. Mrs. Pearson's solo work has given general satisfaction, as the large attendance at all of her performances have enjoyed shows. Her singing this season has been a feature of the Lumina concerts and has added much to the fame of these delightful musical entertainments.

MEMORAL SERVICE TODAY.

Memory of Late .General .William Booth Will be Honored.

Today has been set apart by the Salvation Army as a day of memorial in honor of the memory of founder of the army, General William Booth, whose death occurred August 24th at the age of 83. Every post in the 59 countries in which the Salvation Army is represented will have a memorial service today. The service in Wilmington will be held tonight and will be conducted by the officers of the local post. The service will consist of three songs and three addresses. The songs are: "My Jesus, I Love Thee," "We're Bound for the Land of the Pure and the Holy," and "Life's Morn Will Soon be Waning." These songs were favorites of General Booth. There will be short addresses by Adjutant and Mrs. Matazas, in charge of the local post, and Mrs. Geo. Wiggins, wife of Adjutant Wiggins, of the Richmond, Va., post, who is visiting here. Adjutant and Mrs. Wiggins opened the Salvation Army work in this city seven years ago. The public is cordially invited to attend the service tonight.

INSTRUCTIONS RECEIVED.

"No Sunday Mail" Provision of New Law Affords no Relief.

Postmaster Wallace, of Wilmington, in common with all other postmasters of offices of the first and second classes in the United States, last night received from the Department at Washington the Postmaster General's interpretation of the new "No Sunday mail" feature of the postoffice appropriations bill. It contains nothing new from the instructions already given through the Associated Press dispatches and absolutely disbars the distribution of all mail received between midnight Saturday and Sunday, except so much as may be addressed to newspapers, news dealers and hotels. Offices of other than the first and second classes are not affected.

SELLING BEER CHARGED.

Woman of Underworld Arrested Last Night—Gave Bond for Appearance

Matie Allen, one of the women of the underworld who entered a plea of guilty in the Recorder's court about a month ago to a charge of vagarancy, and upon whom judgement was suspended on payment of the costs, was arrested last night by Officer William Moore, on a warrant charging her with violating the prohibition law by selling beer. She was released upon $200 bond for her appearance in the Recorder's court Tuesday morning.

The warrant alleges that the woman sold beer to one E. D. Smith, in the presence of others who joined in drinking the beverage. The police declare that they have a strong case against the woman.

SCHOONER REPORTED ASHORE.

Fred A. Davenport, Laden With Steel Rails, Had Narrow Escape.

The Revenue Cutter Seminole steamed early yesterday afternoon to the assistance of the schooner Fred A. Davenport, 634 tons, Capt. Blake, reported ashore on the north side of Frying Pan shoals, laden with steel rails from Baltimore to Brunswick and Satilla, Ga., It is presumed that she struck on the shoals during a heavy fog yesterday morning, but reports from Southport last night were that she had floated on high water and proceeded on her voyage without damage. The Davenport sailed from Baltimore on the 22nd and passed out Cape Henry last Monday.

Off For Memphis.

Mr and Mrs. Bob Hewlette, who have been spending a two weeks' vacation with relatives here, left yesterday afternoon for Memphis, Tenn. They expected to remain on their vacation for two more weeks, but a telegram from their manager called them at once, as Mr. Hewlette has the entire musement directorship for the vaudevile and musical comedy attractions at the Great Tri-State (Tennessee, Arkansas and Missippi) Exposition. Many friends had anticipated seeing "Bob" and his accomplished wife appear before a home audience in a local theatre and arrangements for this had practically been closed, but the telegram yesterday summoned them to go to Memphis at once. Mr. and Mrs. Hewlette have many friends in Wilmington, who always extend to them a most cordial welcome.

Suspended and Reprimanded.

Acting upon orders of Councilman B. C. Moore, in charge of the department of public safety, Chief of Police John J. Fowler last night suspended Officer C. L. Spooner for a period of ten days for drinking intoxicating liquors while on duty, and also reprimanded Office J. F. Jordan, for a similar offense. In his order Mr. Moore stated that attending circumstances caused him to make a difference in action taken in the two cases. It states, however, that a repitition of such infraction of the police regulations will result in the summary dismissal of the person thus offending.

Beaman, a representative of a large New York commission house, advertises that he is in the market for a few hundred bushels of choise white scuppernongs for northern shipment. He will pay the highest cash prices for choice lots and would be glad for producers to call on or write him in care of the Wilmington Produce Co., Water and Dock streets or phone No. 1082.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Moore delightfully entertained Mr. Moore's entire office force with an outing at the Oceanic Hotel. The party consisted of Mr. L. W. Moore, wife and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Edwards, Mr. A. K. Moore, Miss Stratford, all of the real estate office, and Miss Annie H. Fonvielle and Mr. W. A. Fonvielle, of Goldsboro. We are also requested to state that anyone who desires to contribute to this fund may do so if they will call either the president, Mr. W. A. McGirt, or Mr. M. H. Brimmer, treasurer, and some one will gladly call for their contributions. The club will also be glad to receive contributions from persons outside of Wilmington. All contributions will be acknowledged and forwarded promptly to headquarters.

Senator Aldrich for a very long time has maintained sepulchral silence but doubtless he thinks that for a man who got "his" and retired, he is receiving swats from everybody who can't think of anybody else to swat.

A dispatch from Lawton, Oklahoma, says the Indian wife of General Sam Houston is dying there at the age of 155 years. We wonder why Houston, Texas, let Lawton beat her on a bit of publicity so wonderful as that.

The best way to tell a Democrat is to find out how he has voted on every election day. If he has always put in one against the Republican party's candidates nobody's word need be taken against his loyalty at voting time.

The New York Times records the fact that Alderman Dotzler consumed 9 1-4 pounds of steak, 19 rolls and 11 cups of coffee. An ultimate consumer like that only puts in the mouth of Republicans the argument that overconsumption and not the tariff is responsible for the high cost of living.

At Columbus, Ohio, on Thursday, the police nabbed a woman who was following up President Taft and claiming to be his wife. She was locked up on the charge of being crazy. By George, Teddy will admit that following Taft is all the evidence necessary to prove that the poor woman had lost her mind.

The Baltimore Sun reminds us once more than 'truth is stranger than fiction." Sure. As marvelous as are the mystifying tales told about those campaign subscriptions, the truth surely is stranger than all the fabrications. It is strange that the plain truth cannot be told by those who paid the subscriptions and those who received them and spent them. The public is left in a mystified state over the undisputed fact that the Standard Oil treasurer testified that he paid out $25,000 for Roosevelt campaign in 1904. The only point of dispute is as to who didn't know "of their own personal knowledge." We infer that it must have been regarded as a rumor.

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN CONTRIBUTIONS.

At the request of and under authority of Robert Ewing chairman of the Press Contributions Bureau of the Democratic National Committee, Fifth Avenue Building, New York, the Star will be glad to receive, acknowledge and forward through the proper channels any and all contributions to the Woodrow Wilson Campaign Fund. These contributions will be either forwarded direct or through Hon. Josephus Daniels, Raleigh, N. C., National Committeeman from North Carolina and acknowledged also through the Raleigh News and Observer, through which agency Mr. H. C. McQueen, of New Hanover, has already started the contributions from this county with a donation of $10. Other contributions will be acknowledged from day to day in these columns and forwarded promtly without cost to the donor.

"No wonder that public men and political parties often put themselves under monetary obligations to wealthy men and "the interests." The public at large knows that the battle is for their own good, and yet often hesitatesto lend any monetary assistance."

"Having nominated Governor Wilson, shall we leave him embarrassed for necessary campaign funds? And if people at large won't subscribe to pay his campaign expenses (a contest made for them) shall they go unpaid? Or if paid, shall they be paid by rich men, who would at least think they had a claim on the president if he were elected?

"The large use of money by a few rich men or by corporations is the curse of our politics."

CROP DISTRIBUTION PLAN

The Star a few days ago made mention of a bill introduced by Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, providing for more detailed crop reporting in the interests of growers and consumers. In that article we printed a copy of the Georgia Senator's bill, and in a general way it provides for more intelligent distribution through a governmental system carried out under the Department of Agriculture, the method being practically the same as that in operation by the East Carolina Truck and Fruit Growers' Association of Wilmington.

Senator Smith's bill passed, but it only provides for the inauguration of such a system of crop reporting and data as will furnish complete information as to production, shipments, consumption, markets, demand, prices, etc. The bill leaves the details to be worked out by the Agricultural Department. That will require the work of experts and along that line we doubt whether there is one more experienced or more competent than Mr. H. T. Bauman, secretary of the East Carolina Truck and Fruit Growers' Association. After years of railroad experience and fifteen years of practical work in putting into execution a plan for the distribution of eastern North Carolina's million-dollar crop of strawberries, Mr. Bauman formulated a plan that is thorough in every detail. His plan is efficient and the results satisfactory when the shippers earnestly co-operate in the plan of distribution. Since the government and other producing regions will now become interested in the question of proper distribution of food products, we furnish here a synopsis of the plan which Mr. Bauman formulated and put into practical effect:

1. A complete canvass of the strawberry territory to ascertain the number of acres of strawberries planted and under cultivation each year.

2. An estimate of the probable output and the estimated number of refrigerator cars it would require to handle the crop, based on a minimum of 236 crates to the car, crops and conditions of previous seasons and those existing each season noted.

3. This estimate carefully prepared and a report made up for the association, and copies furnished the transportation companies, the Armour Car Lines and the ice companies, and crate factories.

4. From this report the transportation companies are in a position to know just how many refrigerator cars to make requisition for to handle the crop each season; the Armour Car Lines how many cars they are to provide; the ice companies, the probable amount of ice they will be required to furnish; the crate factories, the number of crates to make to supply the demand.

5. The secretary and business agent appoints agents in the various markets and at the Potomac Yards whose duties are as follows:

Agent at Potomac yards meets all trains; records all arrivals of refrigerator cars from this territory of which he has notice from the business agent; records to the re-icing of the cars; delivery to the Pennsylvania Railroad, and forwarding of the same.

The agents in the various markets keep tab on all refrigerator cars for their respective markets, date and time of arrival, condition of contents when unloaded, number of crates in each car, condition of ice in bunkers and time unloaded and delivered to consignees.

6. At South Rocky Mount, N. C., where the business agent establishes an office for the season, he provides that every train from the strawberry belt be met, the time of arrival noted, condition of ice in the bunkers of each car carefully recorded, the re-icing of each car looked after, especially, and sees to the prompt forwarding of all shipments from South Rocky Mount.

7. When all shipments for the day have been forwarded, the number of cars for each market is carefully compiled and the data sent by telegraph and bulletin to each shipping point, reaching them before any shipments are loaded out for the next day. The actual sales and prices obtained are also furnished. The fruit and produce exchanges and other agencies in the various markets are notified by wire each day the number of cars passing South Rocky Mount for their respective markets, and in return for this information they furnish the sales on their markets and the conditions prevailing each day.

8. Where agents of the association are located a report is sent them by the business agent each day, showing the number and initial of each refrigerator car passing South Rocky Mount for their markets. This report reaches them from ten to twenty-four hours before the cars are scheduled to arrive and if any car fails to arrive special inquiry is instituted at once and tracer sent out for the missing car, and South Rocky Mount notified promptly.

9. Shippers who want to divert any car en route wire or 'phone the business agent at South Rocky Mount and the diversion is made either at South Rocky Mount or at Potomac yards.

10. When the season closes a complete statement is made up by the secretary and business agent showing the number of crates of strawberries shipped from each section, the number of cars and crates for each market from each shipping point, the estimated gross receipts, transportation and other charges and the estimated net to the grower and shipper. This report is made to the directors of the association at each annual meeting and by them to the stockholders.

Senator Smith's bill does not exactly provide a new plan of distribution, but it provides for accurate reports and data upon which proper distribution can be made. The information which it is sought to provide in the bill would keep producers, buyers and consumers posted as to production, demand, supply, and prices, and while it might prove a matter of vast detail, the Eastern Carolina Truck and Fruit Growers' Association and the various fruit exchanges of the South have demonstrated that it is the only practical distributing plan that will prove satisfactory to shippers. No doubt it would prove equally so to consumers. The potato growers of New England are organizing similar exchanges for the better distribution of their crops. In all probability, by this time potato exchanges have been organized in most of the potato producing States.

ADVERTISING US ABROAD.

A really potential constructive policy like that now being intelligently, earnestly, and vigorously conducted by the Atlantic Coast Line is bound to bring about a great development in the territory covered by that enterprising system. The policy of the Coast Line is potential in a twofold purpose. That purpose is the local development of the resources of the Coast Line's territory, and publicity abroad for the resources, adaptibilities and opportunities offered so prodigally in the Nation's Garden Spot.

We want to emphasize the great importance of the Atlantic Coast Line's work and to express appreciation of it. We avail ourselves of this opportunity to do so and at the same time to urge the hearty co-operation of our people in the Coast Line's methods and undertakings to make its policy effective and successful. Of course, the railroad can do a great deal by itself but it can do more and do it on a greater and more satisfactory scale with the live interest and assistance of all the people on its lines.

Speaking about the Coast Line's policy to emphasize the advantages of its territory and to promote development of its resources, it has not been a year since it ran a thoroughly equipped good roads train throughout eastern North Carolina. Practical good roads building was demonstrated, and by lectures, views, and methods that subject was brought home to our people in a way that must eventually bring about the building of rural highways as one of the surest means of developing this section. A few weeks ago the Coast Line ran a thoroughly equipped agricultural train, and without going into details about that train and its itinerary, it can be said that it covered hundreds of miles of territory and inspired greater interest in scientific agricultural methods and stock raising.

The promotion of good roads construction and scientific agriculture indicates the earnest purpose of the Coast Line to benefit and develop the resources right at home. Not content, however, with a constructive policy for substantial development in our various communities and States, the Coast Line has greatly broademed its policy by extensively advertising the Nation's Garden Spot in the most populous centres of the North and West. That is being done partly by printed matter, but probably the most direct and valuable advertising that it is giving this section is by means of the exhibit car sent out West from Wilmington last Tuesday.

That exhibit car was a new steel frame structure, and in it was an attractive exposition of some of the choice products of the Nation's Garden Spot. It carried a fine display of fruits and vegetables in glasses, and many products in harvest shape. The products to be shown on this trip include specimens from North Carolina, Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama. In the lot were magnificent specimens of cauliflowers, celery, asparagus, Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, sugar corn okra, tomatoes, mangoes, oranges, grapes, plums, peaches, pears, bell peppers, string beans, Rockyford cantaloupes, onions, lima beans, peanuts, rice, tobacco, butter beans, lady finger peas, bunch lima beans, whippoorwill compeas, black sowpeas, cotton seed products, wheat, rye, oats, forage products, clover hay, alfalfa hay, timothy hay, crab grass hay, velvet bean hay, corn fodder, orchard grass, nespediza, Bermuda grass, water grass, sweet clover, sheaf wheat, oats rye, dasheens, cocoanuts, honey etc, etc. North Carolina had a fine place in the exhibit and many fine products will attract attention to the superior agricultural adaptibilities of eastern North Carolina.

This practical exhibition of our unrivalled agricultural resources will be seen by thousands of people in the West. The car will make its first halt tomorrow at Dayton, Ohio., where it will remain till Sept. 6th. It will next be in Grand Rapids, Mich., from Sept. 16th to Sep. 21, and Springfield, Ill., from October 4th to 12th. Thus it will be seen that this section will be advertised immediately before the eyes of the people of three great Western States and it is this practical work that is to bring people and capital here for substantial development.

In this constructive work the Atlantic Coast Line is stirring our people up to greater efficiency and achievement. It is developing the home territory, and is carrying to thousands of people an occular demonstration of the productivity, advantages and desirability of this country for home seekers and investors.

LABOR DAY HERE.

The elaborate preparations for the celebration of Labor Day in Wilmington augurs well for the city. The bigger the celebration the greater meaning it will have for Wilmington, for thousands of prosperous, happy wage earners furnish evidence of a healthy industrial condition that speaks volumes for itself.

Where there is no labor there is no wealth. Labor creates wealth, and it is the profits of efficient labor that aggregate the billions of capital of this country. Capital furnishes the opportunity for labor, and it is the producers who earn the dividends on all capital. The more producers any city has the greater will be its wealth, and consequently it is a sure sign of a city's prosperity when there are thousands of employed people to create its wealth.

We rejoice to see more employed men and women in Wilmington than at any time in its history. Their ranks are so full that it becomes possible to celebrate Labor Day, an occasion properly recognized by the Nation and State. Everybody ought to recognize Labor Day and the city that can have its celebration shows that it has an army of workers and is doing things.

The bigger the procession of working people the greater showing it will be for a city. It is the healthiest sign we know, for it is there that we will find production and prosperity. In Wilmington that is indicated by her thousands of workers, and the situation is one upon which our city can congratulate itself, for among the bank deposits in this city its working people are represented by several million dollars.

Labor Day is the holiday of the workers, and The Star is glad it is their day off, their day of social recreation, their picnic day, and their day for a good time. They will stop work only for a day and for that day the wheels of industry will stand still and production cease. Fancy that there were no working people! The smokestacks would grow grim; the whistle's throat would become choked. The clatter and music of machinery would cease, the ring of the hammer would die away, the payroll would be blank, and production would cease. There would be nothing doing! Hats off to those upon whom the world depends for its bread and its wealth.

Take away the consciences of the people and there would be decadence, wreck and ruin. Corrupt and debauch the people and they will become a servile mass and abject serfs. Therefore, the people are most interested in putting an end to the corruption and debauchment exemplified in the politics of this country and practiced by men who are holy Joes in talk and wreckers in action. It is the masses of the people who will suffer most in the day when civilization, morality, religion and constitutional government are overthrown. The men who are buying votes, bribing men with slush funds, and making the dollar mighty, are more potent in the work of descrtuction than the cohorts of the Goths and Vandals. Vote for Woodrow Wilson and stop it.

When you cannot think of anything else just think now things have been stirring in Wilmington all Summer. No day has been a dull day! Wilmington is a city of every day prosperity.

To our suffragette friends we will say that the "single battleship" voted by the Democrats in Congress will not remain single. She will be provided with a mate next year.

The intelligence of the people of Vermont has been assaulted during the past week. They probably have gazed into the sky to get a glimpse of the fabled "flying filly."

Next week representatives of the Republican party in North Carolina will come to Charlotte. They will have their work to do, but Charlotte will gladly strive to give the visitors a pleasant time. It is true that there may be some matters before the gathered delegates likely to cause many of them unpleasantness, but it is none of our affair, and during the sessions of the Republican State convention Charlotte will forget political differences and remember that we are brethren, citizens together of a great Commonwealth and by reson of combined efforts we are intending to make it the greatest Commonwealth.—Charlotte Chronicle.

TOMORROW IS LABOR DAY

Observance of National Holiday Promises to Be More General Than For Number of Years—The Events Scheduled

Indications are that the observance of Labor Day in Wilmington and its environs tomorrow will be more general than for a number of years, and it is expected that business will practically be at a standstill during the day. In the city the feature will be the speech of Chief Justice Walter Clark, of the State Supreme Court, in behalf of his candidacy for the United States Senate. At Wrightsville Beach there will be a series of athletic events and fireworks display in the afternoon and evening, while at Carolina Beach the day will be marked by an outing of the Wilmington labor unions and the friends and families. All events promise to be largely attended.

The public buildings of the city and county will observe the holiday, the Atlantic Coast Line general offices will be closed in the afternoon, most of the stores and business houses will shut up for the occasion and practically all offices will be closed. On account of the fact that the holiday follows Sunday, when all stores are closed, the grocery stores of the city will be open in the morning, in order to accommodate their customers, but they will close and give their employes a half holiday in the afternoon.

It will be remembered that at the last regular meeting of the City Council, that body voted to grant a holiday to all departmental employes of the city tomorrow and Mayor Joseph D. Smith issued a formal proclamation, calling upon all citizens of the city to observe and help others observe, so far as lay in their power, the national holiday sat aside in recognition of the dignity of labor.

Justice Clark will deliver his speech in the court room tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, and a very large crowd will no doubt be present to hear him. He is known to be a speaker of reputation, and a man who has ever had a prominent part in moulding the history of the Old North State. Arrangements have been made to have the court room well ventilated and extra seats will be provided. Ladies, as well as men are extended a cordial invitation to be present and hear Judge Clark. Many will no doubt remain in the city in the morning to hear the distinguished jurist and then go to one of the seaside resorts in the afternoon.

At Carolina Beach

The local unions have made elaborate preparations for their outing and picnic at Carolina Beach and the indications are that the attendance will probably be the largest of the season at the well-known resort.

A general committee from all the unions, headed by Mr. Tom F. McNalley as chairman has been making preparations for the outing and they announce that everything is now complete and nothing has been overlooked that will tend to make the day a notable one for the union men.

A handsome four-color programme has been gotten out, giving the different events for the day. Music will be furnished by Sceizi's orchestra and dancing will be a pleasant feature during the day and evening. The athletic events include 100, 200 and 400-yard dash, spoon race for girls, sack race for boys, standing jump, hop-step-and-jump race, tug of war and swimming race.

The following is the special schedule of the Harper Line steamers for the day, arranged for the convenience of those going to Carolina Beach or Southport:

Steamer Wilmington leaves for Carolina Beach and Southport, 9 A. M.; for Carolina Beach, 2:30 and 7:30 P. M.

Leaves Southport, 11:30 A. M. by Carolina Beach; leaves Carolina Beach, 12:30 P. M. (steamer Ella, 3:15 P. M.) 5:30 P. M. and 10 P. M.

Steamer Ella leaves Wilmington for Carolina Beach, Southport and Fort Caswell, 10:30 A. M.; leaves Wilmington for Southport, 5:00 P. M.

Leaves Southport, 7:00 A. M., 2:15 P. M. by Carolina Beach. Leaves Southport at 7:30 P. M.

At Wrightsville Beach.

The morning event at Wrightsville Beach is an open race over the regular course of the Carolina Yacht Club, and it is expected that all the boats belonging to the members will be entered. Two sets of prizes, one for each class of boats, have been arranged for by the regatta committee and will be awarded immediately following the finish of the race. The starting signal will be given at 10:45.

The athletic events in front of Lumina begin at 3:30 P. M., and the list of entrants promises to be the largest of the season. Many have already entered and others will do so tomorrow morning. The events are as follows:

IN THE RECORDER'S COURT

Number of Cases Were Tried Yesterday—Negro Gets Six Months for Resisting Officer—Cottle Case Continued

Chas. Johnson, colored, was in the spot light in the Recorder's court yesterday, being charged with resisting an officer and being sentenced by Substitute Recorder Harriss, who presided, to six months on the county roads therefor. The negro is the one who created such a disturbance on an excursion train from this city near Pee Dee, S. C., a few days ago.

Johnson was also charged with an assault with a deadly weapon and disorderly conduct on a railroad train, but as these offenses were committed in South Carolina he could not be tried for them here.

It was when brought to this city and turned over to Station Officer Haddock that he resisted, and this was what he was sentenced for yesterday. It is not known whether or not any effort will be made to have him sent to South Carolina and tried for the other offenses when his time is up here.

Joe Luke, colored, was tried on a charge of false pretense, and probable cause being found was sent over to Superior Court, bond being fixed at $100. It was alleged that the negro obtained a buggy whip from L. A. Bilbro by representing that he had been sent for it by Mr. Norwood Orrell, when in reality Mr. Orrell knew nothing of the matter.

Chas. DeLoatch, a small colored boy, was charged with entering the Orton Hotel, a building used for the accommodation of the public, for sleeping purposes, etc. While the warrant did not read burglary, that is the substance of the charge. The boy was found in one of the basement rooms several nights ago. The court held the case open for judgment.

Ed. McDaniels, colored, was found guilty on a charge of vagrancy and was sentenced to 30 days on the county roads, judgment being suspended, however, on payment of the costs and condition that the defendant go to work. Louis Ranicheisky, a foreigner, was tried on a charge of vagrancy and the case was left open for judgment.

Richard Nixon and Vergil Nixon, colored, were charged with an assault with a deadly weapon upon Festus Royal, colored. Richard was found not guilty and Virgil was found guilty to the extent of $5 and costs. P. A. Forbes, a white man, was fined $5 and costs for throwing rocks in the streets.

Jim Bell, Daisy Taylor, J. W. Lewis, Geo. Scott, colored, and Jno. M. Meyland, white, were found guilty of violating the dog ordinance. Judgment was suspended on payment of the costs and upon condition that each provide a license tax for their dog.

Elijah Wood, Hannah Davis, Calvin Carroll and T. P. Lane, colored, were charged with violations of the dog ordinance. The cases were not prossed. Hester Ann Hall, colored, was found not guilty on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Henry Cottle, a young white man, was charged with larceny by trick, it being alleged that he obtained $4 in money and a box of candy from the Mission Pharmacy by telephoning and asking that the candy and $4 in money be sent to a number on Market street, and promising to send a $5 bill back by the boy, and then taking the money and candy and disappearing.

The case was continued until Tuesday, bond being fixed at $50.

LABOR UNIONS MEET.

Largely Attended and Enthusiastic Session Held Last Night.

The general Labor Day committee of the local Unions held a meeting last night in the Junior Order Hall. There were present 100 representatives of the different labor organizations of the city. Enthusiasm was high. A number of short talks were made and the concensus of opinion is that the meeting was the most representative and enthusiastic held in the recent history of the city.

Among visitors present were Messrs J. Robert Cramer, Scott Cameron, Geo. D. Rosser and John Sistrunk, of Savannah and Waycross, Ga. Each was called on for an address and cheerfully responded. Reports were received from the Union of the city. They indicated that the Unions were in splendid condition, numerically and financially, and that there would be a friendly rivalry to see which local atended the outing tomorrow in the largest numbers.

It was decided to attend service at the Fifth Street Methodist church tonight, the occasion being an address especially prepared by the pastor, Rev G. T. Adams, on the subject of labor. As he has an established reputation as speaker and is well versed in the affairs of labor, it is most likely that the spacious edifice will be crowded to hear Mr. Adams.

FUNERAL OF MRS. LAWTHER.

Services Held From Family Residence Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of Mrs. T. A. Lawther, whose death occurred on Wrightsville Beach Friday afternoon, was held from the family residence, No. 114 North Seventh street, yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, Rev. H. W. Koelling, assistant pastor of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, of which the deceased had been a faithful and devoted member for many years, conducted the services, which were attended by a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends.

Following the services at the home the remains were tenderly borne to Oakdale cemetery, where the interment was made. The grave was covered with a profusion of handsome floral designs, attesting the esteem in which the deceased had been held. The pallbearers were: Honorary, Dr. Jno. T. Schonwald, Messrs. H. G. Smallbones, Ed. Campbell and Jas. F. Post; active, Messrs. Tom Post, H. M. Foard, D. L. Latta, W. W. Hodges, W. H. Sprunt and Geo. S. Boylan.

NEW COTTON SEASON ARRIVES

Local Receipts for Year Ending Yesterday 140,000 Bales More Than For Preceding Year—New Crop About Ready

The cotton season of 1911-12 closed last night and the season 1912-13 officially begins today. Local receipts for the year showed an increase of 140,000 bales for the preceding season. The books yesterday showed that 550,066 bales were received in Wilmington during the year, while up to the same date last year the receipts amounted to only 410,308 bales.

Nearly all of the cotton was consigned to Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son, the large cotton exporting firm of this city, the staple being purchased by buyers of the firm throughout the cotton belt. The cotton was shipped here, compressed and then most of it was loaded on vessels for foreign ports. During the year just closed 502,825 bales were exported to foreign countries, while 44,454 bales coming to this port were used in this country.

The crop this year will hardly be as large as last year, but it is expected that about the average number of bales will be received at this port. Messrs. Sprunt & Son are making preparations for the opening of the season and it is expected that new cotton will begin to arrive in a few days. The season will be in full swing in a few weeks, it is expected. The first tramp steamer will arrive before the 15th of September for cotton for European ports.

TWO GAMES PLAYED

Company B and Amateurs the Winners Yesterday at Hilton

Two fairly interesting games of baseball in the City League series were played at Hilton diamond yesterday afternoon, the first being won from the Athletics by Company B, by the score of 10 to 4, and the second going to the Amateurs from the Giants to the tune of 5 to 2. The first game was called at 3 o'clock and was fast and snappy until the seventh inning, standing 4 to 3 in favor of the Athletics at that time. However, the Company B boys rallied and put the game on ice in the next two innings. The features were the pitching of Register and the batting of Branch, of the Company B team. Batteries, Register and Burnett for Company B, and Taylor and Wilson for the Athletics.

The second game was interesting throughout and was featured by the pitching of Hines, who struck out 18 men, retiring the opposing team in one, two, three order in the 7th and 8th innings. Yopp and Moore did the honors for the Giants and Hines and Bell for the Amateurs.

The standing of the teams now is as follows: Company B, won 5, lost 2, .720; Athletics, won 5, lost 3, .625; Giants, won 3, lost 5, .375; Amateurs, won 2 lost 5, .275.

The Fall Term Will Open October 7th —The Rural Schools

Announcement has been made that the city graded schools will open for the Fall term Monday, October 7th. Mr. John J. Blair, city superintendent, returned a few weeks ago from his Summer vacation and is getting everything in readiness for the opening. It is expected that the enrollment will greatly exceed that of last year. The new Bear Memorial school building will be ready for occupancy when the term opens. Even with the addition of this building it is expected that all the schools in the city will be crowded again this year on account of the large number of beginners to enter at this time.

The rural public schools will open tomorrow morning for the term. Practically all the teachers have arrived at their respective schools and are ready for the opening tomorrow.

OPENS REPAIR DEPARTMENT.

Mr. H. L. Fennell Adds New Feature to Garage on Second Street.

Fennell, the well known automobile dealer on North Second street, has opened in connection with his up-to-date garage a first class shop where he will be glad to take cars of all work entrusted to the shop. Mr. C. W. B. Korb, an experienced auto repair man, recently in charge of a garage and repair shop of his own in Greenville, N. C., has been engaged by Mr. Fennell and is well equipped to take care of this department of the business. Mr. Fennell has an interesting Ford announcement elsewhere in today's paper.

Attention of the public is called to the fact that the date of the sale of Sunset Park lots is changed from September 15th to Monday, October 7th, in order that all the improvements may be completed. YOUNG MUSICIANS TO TAKE COURSE IN BOSTON.

(Communicated.)

It is always interesting, and sometimes deeply significant, when the last word of a chapter has been written in the book of one's life, and that one stands facing an epoch, beyond which the unknown wonders yet to be revealed may make glorious all of the future. Such is the position today of two of our most gifted young musicians, Misses Katie Foard and Agnes Chasten. They have finished their work as students of music in Wilmington, and are going, under the chaperonage of Miss Cannie Chasten, to Boston, where she will enter them for study in the New England Conservatory of Music. The many friends of these young ladies are confident that their sojourn in the classical atmosphere of that mecca for aspiring musicians, and the further development and training they will receive from those masters will produce large results—indeed they feel justified in expecting great things.

Miss Katie Foard, very early in life, showed unmistakable talent for music; that she appreciated her gift has been plainly evidenced by the noble work she has done. The responsible work of laying the foundation for her musical education was committed to Mrs. Mattie L. Chasten, whoes painstaking qualifications as a teacher need no comment here. Later on she was presented to Miss Cannie Chasten, that master in the art of teaching, who fitted, and prepared her for the New England Conservatory of Music. Miss Foard has already established a reputation in Wilmington as a musician of marked ability. Her work as soprano in Grace Methodist Church wts earnest, thoughtful and intelligent, while her piano recitals, in Schubert Hall, charmed all who listened to her skilful handling of that very difficult instrument, the piano.

Miss Agnes Shasten comes of a line of musicians, and she has inherited the gift from her ancestors. She was born, and has been reared, in a musical atmosphere and music has been, from her earliest infancy, interwoven in her thought and daily experience. Her musical inheritance is rich indeed, having desended from both mother and aunt, and her training by those gifted teachers has been exceptionallly fine. Although so young, yet she, too, has shown marked ability as a teacher, and her acceptable handling of the organ at St. Andrew's church has proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that her talent is of very high order.

We predict for our two young friends a brilliant future, and bid them God speed as they, with such earnestness of purpose, go bravely to do the hard study and strenuous work necessary for the high attainment to which they so worthily aspire.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON REVIEW

Prices During the Past Week Showed A Loss of 46 Points—Shorts Covered and Reduced Their Interest

New Orleans, August 31.—In spite of the fact that this was a week of evening up operations in the cotton market, cotton prices showed a net loss of 46 to 49 points. Shorts covered from one end of the week to the other and greatly reduced the short interest. The general expectation was, however, for a bearish government report, and this, together with some little hedge selling against the new crop caused the decline. Longs liquidated to some extent and the strongest class of bear traders increased their commitments moderately. The triple holidays, following the close of the market Friday, caused evening up more than did the nearness of the bureau report.

The high prices of the week were made on Monday and the low prices in the closing session. At the highest the trading months were 2 to 3 points under last week's close and at the lowest they were 49 to 51 points under.

The range was 46 to 49 points.

The weather of the week was generally regarded on the whole as being favorable. Texas and Oklahoma still continued to suffer for want of moisture, but the fair weather, with scattered showers now and then, was considered favorable to the remainder of the crop.

Free offerings of cotton in Texas, and heavy movements in that State and a weak spot basis helped the bears put prices lower. At the same time bullish comment was caused by the heavy export movement out of Galveston.

In the spot department prices lost 1-2 a cent, middling closing at 11 3-16, against 11 11-16 last week and 11 1-2 last year. Sales on the spot amounted to 365 bales, against 348 last week and 1,085 this week last year. Sales to arrive amounted to 45 bales, against none last week and 585 this week last year.

Vermont, the "Barometer State," will hold its election next Tuesday. For more than a half century, with hardly an exception, its September election has foretold the result the country over in November. When its Republican majority has exceeded 25,000 the Republicans have won the national election; when it fell below 25,000 the Republicans have lost. This year, with three parties in the field and a political spirit abroad that takes less account of party ties than ever before, the barometer may fail to work. On the other hand, by watching the Democratic vote rather than the Republican and considering total figures rather than majorities, it may be possible to draw some deductions of value from the result. Whatever that result may be, there will undoubtedly be even more speculation than usual regarding it.—Baltimore Sun.

IT MUST BE TRUE

Wilmington Readers Must Come to That Conclusion.

It is not the telling of a single case in Wilmington, but scores of citizens testify. Endorsement by people you know bears the stamp of truth. The following is one of the public statements made in this locality about Doan's Kidney Pills:

Mrs. J. E. Marshburn, 516 Castle St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I am well pleased with Doan's Kidney Pills, for they have given satisfaction in my case. My back and kidneys were in bad shape and I had dull pains through my loins, together with headaches and kidney weakness. In the morning when I got up, I was tired and languid and had but little strength with which to begin my day's work. After I had taken part of the contents of one box of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Bellamy's Drug Store, I improved and it was not long before my kidneys were restored to their proper working order." (Statement given February 24, 1908.)

A SECOND ENDORSEMENT.

On December 27, 1910 Mrs. Marshburn sand: "I value Doan's Kidney Pills as highly as ever and have no hesitation in re-endorsing them. They are certainly a good backache and kidney medicine."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

FRIGHTFUL WASTE OF COAL

Director of Bureau of Mines Prepares Statement Showing 250,000,000 Tons Were Thrown Away Last Year.

Washington, August 31.—Of a production of 500,000,000 tons of coal in the United States in the last year, 250,000,000 tons were either wasted or left underground, probably unfit for future use, according to a statement today by Dr. Jos. A. Holmes, director of the United States Bureau of Mines. In addition to this startling waste Dr. Holmes declared that users of coal, through faulty methods, derived only about 10 per cent of its energy from the coal. Furthermore, he added, the loss by waste in other minerals, such as zinc, nitrogen, potash, sulphur and natural gas would reach into the hundreds of millions of dollars annually.

Director Holmes based his declaration on an exhaustive report just made by Charles L. Pasons, chief mineral chemist of the bureau, who points out some of the heaviest annual losses as follows:

250,000,000 tons of coal.

More natural gas than is now manufactured.

90 per cent of the energy of coal consumed.

By antiquated coke-making methods $40,000,000.

9,000,000 tons of sulphuric acid from smelters' chimneys.

These losses are only the beginning of the enormous drains on the country's natural resources, Mr. Parsons contends.

Officials of the bureau are hopeful for strides toward reform. Already they say, remedial laws, both Federal, State and municipal are bringing about a better understanding of the situation.

The Democratic Forces Strengthening Lines—Banks and Funds.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New York, Aug. 31.—The third week of the campaign finds the Democratic forces strengthening their lines and gaining ground each day.

The Vermont campaign is on and Democratic speakers are invading every district of Harland B. Howe, candidate for Governor.

Governor Thomas Marshall and Speaker Champ Clark are to devote the next week to the campaign in Maine. They will be assisted by other Democratic leaders and the advance reports from every district bring new encouragement to the national headquarters.

Secretary Joseph E. Davies, of the Democratic National Committee, will have the Western Bureau, which is located in Chicago, in complete operation by the first of September.

Acting Chairman McAdoo, in disclosing his suggestion that banks act as receivers for campaign contributions for all parties, has been received in all parts of the country as one of the most practical ideas of the campaign.

Acting Chairman McAdoo has the following to say on this subject:

"The opinion of the Acting Solicitor of the Treasury Department that National Banks receive and transmit subscriptions for each of the National political parties puts at rest all questions as to the right of the banks to act if they want to do so. It is, of course, our intention to have the banks charge for all expenses to which they may be put for the service they may render." z

PROGRESS IN COLUMBUS.

School Opens—Cotton Gin at Hallsboro—Work on The Roads.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Red Bug, N. C., August 30.—As I have now been in this section nearly a year, I desire to give you the news from Redbug and Hallsboro. Redbug is not a sorry place as one might suppose it to be by its name; however, it is like its namesake in one sense—it hustles and it not only hustles, but it sticks on good churches, schools, farms and roads.

The annual term of school was opened at Redbug High School building last Monday by Miss Eliza Parker, of Raleigh, and Miss Donia Lawrence, of Ahoskie. Messrs. Pierce & c., have torn down their old cotton gin in Hallsboro and have put up a larger one in its place, which will be a great help to the cotton growers in this section.

Capt. Grainger is at work on the road from Hallsboro across the White Marsh Swamp into Lee's township. He has the road cut out and some of the bridges constructed and is hauling in dirt. Capt. Grainger says he can complete the road in 40 days if the entire convict force is put on the road. This road when completed will be a good thing for this county, as it will connect a large territory direct with the railroad. The people in that section of Lee's township, in fact in all the territory beyond the White Marsh and lower edge of Columbus county will have to go but one-third or one-half the distance to the A. C. L. railroad that they have heretofore been going. It is only about four miles from Hallsboro to the new Britain Ferry road, where this road will intersect. It will open up a large territory for the traveling salesman and the mercantile business can be engaged in with profit to the merchant and at the same benefit to the consumers H. C. D.

ELON COLLEGE NOTES.

New President—Improvements Going on in and Around Village.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Elon College, August 31.—Mr. J. E. Stroud, county commissioner of Alamance county, has bought former President Moffitt's handsome residence and will become a citizen next Spring. His home meanwhile will be occupied by Mr. Parish, who has just opened up a general merchandize store here.

The brick work for the new gymnasium is being built by McAdams and Kirkpatrick Brothers. The wood work is being done by Mr. Davis Fitch. This bids fair to be one of the finest College buildings in the State. It will have a basement under its entire space, ten feet in the clear, and three eaves. The gymnasium floor will be 60x100 feet in the clear, with fine lobbies. The building will also contain 50 dormitory rooms, besides lockers and shower baths. Every modern convenience will be in this building as in all the other College buildings. It will be ready for occupancy by January 1.

The Young Men's Club House is fast being completed. It will open Tuesday evening September 3rd. and will be taxed to its utmost capacity. So will the Young Ladies' Hall, which has just been remodeled.

The prospect for the opening which occurs September 4th is exceedingly bright. In all probability the entering class will pass the one hundred mark. Students have already begun to arrive and most of the professors are at their posts.

WED IN LION'S DEN

Miss Ruth Kavanaugh and Geo. W. Lowenstein Marry at Park

Oakland, Cal., Aug. 31.—Surrounded by a wedding party which included a lioness, a leopard, a puma, a panther and a jaguar, also a trainer, armed with whip and revolver, Miss Ruth Kavanaugh and Geo. W. Lowenstein were married in a den of lions at an amusement park today.

Miss Mae Clark, who missed the glory of a wedding among the beasts because she could not chose a husband among 250 men who proposed, was among the spectators. Miss Clark offered to be married in the den provided the park proprietors furnished the man.

They furnished a battalion. Miss Clark could not trim her eligible list down to one.

West Chester, Pa., Aug. 31.—Arthur Wood, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was killed, and Edmund Rountree, his wife and two daughters, Alice, Elizabeth and Victoria Rountree, also of Brooklyn, were injured at Glenloch near here, when an automobile in which they were touring the State turned turtle.

A CITY OF PERPETUAL LIGHT

Greatest Gas Plant in World to Be Erected in New York—Patagonia Contributes First Immigrants—Hobble Skirt

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New York, Aug. 31.—In addition to the greatest electric lighting plant New York is now to have the greatest gas plant in the world, surpassing even that which supplies the needs of London and as a result is soon to add to its title of the city that never sleeps that of the city that never grows dark.

Work is already underway which when completed will provide the largest source of light supply ever created by man. As now planned this giant plant will consist of nine separate units capable of supplying 250,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily. Just what this means is shown by the fact that the new light center, capable of making the Great White Way look dim by comparison will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000,000. Each unit of this vast plant will be a good-sized manufacturing city in itself since the total area will be about 350 acres or more than half a square mile. One feature will be two great steel oil tanks with a capacity of a million gallons each. To guard against the danger of fire with such enormous quantities of inflammable material at hand a special fire station is to be erected. In addition to this great earthen diffes have been raised about the oil tanks. Should this liquid ever catch fire and break its metal barriers New York would thus be afforded the spectacle of a burning lake, which except for this safeguard might become a most disastrous fiery flood. The producing capacity of the new plant when completed will be nearly two and one-half times the present gas consumption of Manhattan and the Bronx, and a twenty-one foot tunnel hewn out of the solid rock 250 feet below the sea level will be a part of the system for conveying the gas to the upper part of the city. Altogether New York, with the completion of this giant undertaking promises to become a city of perpetual daylight.

A novel entry has been made in New York's stream of foreign immigration, unique even in the infiinite variety with which immigration officials are associated—two ranchmen from Patagonia having arrived here with the purpose of undertaking sheep raising on the northern continent. Both have a surprising knowledge of worldwide conditions in their business and both have become convinced that the prospects for making money are the better on the northern continent. Among the many distinct paths and by-paths of immigration that come under the observation of the immigration officials, there have been none leading from South America and comparatively few from the United States to South America, although Europe is pouring in new settlers by thousands. However, the arrival of the two men from Patagonia is believed to be the forerunner of a new lot of alien homeseekers, although the entire population of Patagonia would barely supply men enough to police the streets of Gotham. As a result of the keen interest taken by immigration authorities in the entry of these names of Charles P. Houstock, of Rio Gallegos, and H. Calcutt, it subsequently was ascertained that Houstock finally bought six sections of land in the big irrigated tract of the Canadian Pacific Railway out in Alberta. They reported that they had been attracted to this territory by learning of the case of a farmer near Red Deer, Alberta, who sold fifty ewes to a neighbor at $6 each, taking a note for the amount. Before the note was due the neighbor had received eighty-eight cents per head clear for the wool from the sheep, and had raised fifty-four lambs. And he then sold the whole bunch of 104 at $6 each. His expense had been nominal, as there had been no more shelter than some brush, and the entire feed consisted of straw and some unsalable hay.

Mere man, in the person of officials of New York's street car lines, may yet have something to say concerning the styles of feminine fashions of dress, and the dictates of the dressmaker be made less absolute. As the result of an investigation which traction officials have been carrying on for some time the conclusion has been reached that the hobble skirt is a public detriment and that dresses should in the future be planned with the needs of this public in mind. The chief accusation brought against the hobble skirt is that it impedes traffic. While its effect is not noticeable on subway or elevated trains where there is no necessity to step up, there is a marked difference in the case of surface cars, according to one high official. According to him delays caused by the time consumed in stepping up on to the platform by the wearers of tight skirts are a primary reason for slow travel. To this same style he also attributes many accidents, and the wearing out of sidewalks. "A large number of accidents," says he, "are due to the fact that women wear hobble skirts which impede them in entering or alighting from cars. Moreover we also find that this skirt by shortening steps and thus increasing the number adds greatly to the wear and tear on the pavements." So for utilitarian reasons it looks as if man might yet have something to say concerning women's styles.

While lost persons are nothing unusual in New York, the police records showing from twenty to fifty reports a day of such cases, the present week has brought to light the first instance on record so far as known of a lost house. Curiously enough the house in question belongs, or at least is supposed to belong, to the city itself, and stands in one of the most crowded spots in the world, adjoining a police court on the lower East Side. For thirty years back at least nobody has known or has attempted to find out to whom the house, an old-fashioned brick residence, really belonged. During all this time it has been occupied rent-free by various attaches of the police court next door, but the official records of the city contain no reference to it and apparently nobody knew or took the trouble to inquire as to its ownership. How much longer the modest old house might have concealed its identity in the center of the teeming East side had not an accident revealed its secret, might never be known. It happened a few days ago, however, that one of the occupants of the house complained of the poor quality of the gas supply. The company found that no record existed of any connection with the house and that it had been illuminating the place for thirty years or more at its own expense. An attempt was then made to locate the owner with the result that nobody could be found who claimed it nor could any record be discovered of its ownership. While the city probably will enforce its claim to the property the early history of the old house and the story of how it came to lose itself in lower Manhattan seem likely to remain unsolved mysteries.

That the American and English shoppers are essentially different for some reason not yet discovered seems to be the opinion of two representatives of one of London's largest stores who have come to this city to study the methods of big department stores here in an attempt to find out why the bargain sale which is so popular here in this country is so unpopular abroad. According to their statements two sales a year are all that the British public will countenance as compared to the practically daily offerings at cut prices here. Apparently the attempted introduction of American methods in London has now owed its failure to lack of proper handling, since the English visitors point out that one American long associated in the operation of department stores with their daily bargain sales in this country has been unable to make these methods popular in his London store. For a time the older British stores adopted the American sales methods, but now they have fallen back to the old conservative lines. As a result English merchants are now about to make a careful diagnosis of our department stores in an effort to discover a cure for the English shoppers antipathy to the methods by which our shops are able to turn stock over so rapidly and handle such a wide variety of goods

6—THE WORK OF THE OPERATOR

The telephone operator is trained to give quick and accurate service. That is what the public pays for and expects; it is what we are in business to furnish. It is impossible, we realize, to attain perfection. We do employ every reasonable means known to the art of telephony to approximate perfection. There are inevitable "rushes" in emergencies which even such careful provision and supervision will not care for in a perfect manner. But such emergencies are, and should be, of rare occurrence. We do give efficient service and if you will hold a stop-watch in your hand you will find that the space of time which seems like minutes to you is only a very few seconds.

During certain hours of the day the load on the switchboard, that is the number of calls, is abnormally large. These rush periods are known as "busy hours" and we take the precaution, in advance, to prepare for these rushes of business. There is never a time, except when some unusual and unexpected event happens, that an operator ever has more than she can do.

When you take the telephone receiver off the hook a light burns in front of the operator. This is the signal that a subscriber wishes her attention. If two or three lights appear simultaneously she answers them as rapidly as she can reach them. If there are an unusual number of calls before a particular operator the operator on each side handles some of them and the supervisor steps in from the rear and helps. So there is no possibility of any calls being neglected.

Would you believe that in my nicely furnished home I've been using the same old stove too long to tell. Well, now, I've put a brand new range in my kitchen. How happy I am over it. The kitchen looks like another place, and the cooking tastes better.

The new style stoves, too, are so much more convenient to use than the old.

WEEK'S NEWS AT LUMBERTON

County Survives Two Primaries—Personal and Other General News Items of Interest in Robeson to Sunday Readers.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., August 31.—Robeson county still survives after passing through two primaries for the selection of county officers. The first of these struggles to be pulled off was one of the hottest which has occurred in the county and in come respects one of the most disgusting, but it is all over how, except going through the election in November which will be a mere matter of form.

Notwithstanding the hot fight and great number of candidates in the field we do not belive a better ticket could have been selected. As the ticket stands it should satisfy everybody thoughsome of us hate to see our candidate defteated. But we will vote together, and give the greatest majority in the history of the county The ticket complete is as follows; Geo. B. McLeod, Senator; H. C. McNair, Representative; R. E. Lewis, Sheriff T. N. Higley, Register of Deeds; M. G. McKenzie, Treasurer; Geo. E. Rancke, Coroner; C. B. Townsend, A. J. Floyd, Jno. W. Ward, Rory McNair and J. F. McKoy, Commissioners. Messrs Floyd and McKoy are members of the present board. We have never seen a better distribution of county commissioners. Lumberton, Fairmont, Rowland, Maxton and Red Springs each will have a representative on the board.

In a recent communication it was urged that Red Springs should have a representative in the Legislature, in orded to show no partiality or favoritism to other parts of that county. We would not for any consideration be understood as opposing Red Springs or any of its citizens for anything, but people living in that town and township have not been slighted in recent years. Beginning with 1898 Red Springs furnished the Register of Deeds for 6 or 8 years and since his retirement Red Springs has been furinshing the Sheriff. During the time Maj. Geo. Hall and J. M. McLeod, both from Red Springs, have been elected to the Legislature. Mr. Frank McKoy has been and woll continue to be a county commissioner from that township. Prof. J. R. Poole, the efficient county superintendent of education, when elected to that position several year ago, was engaged in business in that town. Now Dr. McMillan is going to the Legislature from there and really we think Red Springs fares as well as any part of the county. It has the kind of men required to fill these offices and so long as they will consent to serve the people the people are going to vote for them. The much despised "Lumberton gang" and "Lumberton ring" will follow the crowd and do all possible to assist in giving a majority of which any candidate may be proud. Two years hence we are promised another effort to divide the county.

Dr. T. A. Norment, who had been diving in the county one afternoon this week, brought into town a real live rattlesnake, all but its head which had been put out of business. The reptile was probably five feet long and carried seven rattles. If there ever was such a thing as a pretty snake that was one. When turned out of bag into the street it was viewed by a large crowd of people, many of whom gazed upon a rattlesnake for the first time.

For one we beat Congressman Godwin to it and received from Senator Cobb a watermelon which would have been the talk of all Washingeon if it had gone there instead of to Lumberton. Mr. Cobb brought in a melon 35 inches long and 33 inches round. It was so large we would not try to weigh it. One thing is sure, it was the best flavored we ever tasted. We sincerely thank Mr. Cobb for it.

Contractor S. A. Branch is now pushing the work on the new building being erected by Messrs R. D. Caldwell & Son to be used by them as a funeral parlor. The building will be of brick 70 by 27 feet, and is just in the rear of the Caldwell block fronting on Second street.

Messrs. Freeman & Boon now have their grist mill and wood yard in operation and are said to be making a high grade of meal. They furnish any kind of wood cut in any length desired. This is certainly a long-felt want supplied in Lumberton and it is hoped they will receive a large patronage.

Scuppernong grapes have made their appearance on the market and the sidewalks are receiving a full share of the hulls.

Already several bales of new cotton have been ginned at the old mill and in a few days more if the weather continues good much of the staple will be coming in.

The Rowland Sun mentions the fact that Lumberton has three cotton mills. We are glad to say that the number is four and arrangements are now being made to enlarge the capacity of one of them. Eight hundred spindles are to be added to the Dresden Mill.

Officer Wisdom Smarty, from twelve miles West, spent two day in twon this week. When it comes to knowledge of law his learning is enough to put to shame anyone else wearing a badge. None of the resident officers were allowed to sleep while he was here without being shadowed by him. He wanted somebody arrested for stealing somewhere but he didn't know who he wanted. Something had to be done so he swore out a search warrant to go through a negro house away out over the river. He returned with a poor old black necktie which he thought had been stolen. He claims to be a Georgian and if he has ever been in that State he might be wanted back there. This communtiy don't need him unless he is given a job on the roads.

Mrs. W. W. Carlyle went to Little Rock, S. C. this week to visit relatives. She returned today.

Mrs. Dennis Biggs has been spending part of the week with relatives at Rowland. She will return home tomorrow. Mrs. Martha Jones of Charlotte, is visiting in town. Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Townsend left this week for Mount Airy wehre they will spend some time.

Prof. R. E. Sentelle and family returned from Waynesville this week. Mr. Lee Stone, who had been spending some time with them in the mountains returned home with them. Prof. Sentelle is now busily engaged arranging for the opening of the Graded School on the 10th.

Our item last Sunday in regard to the stale eggs that are being shoved off on our people, has caused a few people to give in their experience. One gentleman states that he purchased 8 dozen and only got seven good eggs. A lady had beter luck, she got 13 out of a dollar's worth.

Capt. P. J. Russell and family returned Thursday morning from Baltimore Md., where they had been visiting relatives. Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Whaley leave Monday, morning for Asheville, Lynchburg, Va., and other places. They except to be gone some time.

The home of Mr. Tillen Kinlaw, at Barker's Howellsville township, was destroyed Thursday about noon by fire. The fire originated in the kitchin roof, supposed to have been caused by a defective flue. Most of the contents were saved. Mr. Kinlaw carried $500 Insurance.

Mr. A. W. Peace, formerly, of Lumberton, but now of Fayetteville, spent yesterday in town. Miss Amelia Linkhaw, manager of the millinery department of Messrs. R. D. Caldwell & Son, left yesterday for the Northern markets to purchase Fall goods. Dr. Raymond Thompson, of Charlotte, is spending some time in town visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thompson. Prof. Ralph Pope, superintendent of the Parkton Graded School, is spending some time in town with relatives. Prof. Pope is a nephew of Mr. Ira L. Pope. Mr. C. M. Fuller returned yesterday morning from St. Louis, Mo., where he had been to purchase stock. He bought two car loads of horses and mules.

A great deal of tobacco is being carried from this section to Fairmont. However, most of our farmers in this section failed to plant any for the past two seasons and as a result none of the weed has been sold in Lumberton for the past two years.

There was a feeling of genuine regret in the business part of town Monday morning when it was announced that "Pansy" was dead, had been killed by some vicious night prowling dog. "Pansy" was probably the largest and best known tabby in Lumberton. He was near if not quite 15 years old, and was raised by the late Mr. R. R. Jones. The cat generally made his headquarters at the store of Mr. L. H. Caldwell, but visited all the business places where there was any prospect of finding a rat. During the past ten or twelve years the money that "Tabby" has saved to the merchants by putting rats out of buiness would run up into the hundreds.

The time having expired for the business houses to close at 6 o'clock in the evening, the boys will now get down to business in fine trim for the Fall business which everyone hopes will be good.

Mr. R. D. Caldwell spent yesterday in Raleigh. Dr. W. L. Grantham left for New York tonight where for a week or ten days he will attend a series of special lectures. Dr. A. C. Tebeau left this morning for Hendersonville where he will spend some time with his mother, after which he expects to locate in Charlotte for the practice of his profession. Mrs. Tebeau will join the doctor at Hendersonville in a week or ten days.

According to our calendar today is the 26th anniversary of the great earthquake which visited this part of the country.

The Republican County Convertion was held here today to appoint delegates to the State convention in Charlotte next week. Nineteen out of 23 precincts were represented. Chairman B. F. McLean addressed the convention impressing upon those present the importance of standing together on State and county ticket, regardless of who they vote for president. There were advocates of both Taft and Roosevelt present. Several postoffices in the county were represented. When the convention was called to order 28 people were present but not all Republicans. W. K. Culbreth was elected county chairman suceeding the late Col. Steve Edmund.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

Drug Store Forced to Sell, for Cash Only Beginning Sunday, Sept. 1st, 1912.

For the past ten years I have been doing a retail credit business, favoring all who applied, giving each and every one the best service and prices possible. As a result, I have on my books several thousand dollars in accounts which are coming in so slowly that I find it impossible to meet the demands of my creditors, and I am informed by the biggest of them that I am to either begin and sell for cash only, while I am collecting up my back accounts, or be thrown into bankruptcy. It's an easy guess which course I will pursue. But for the sake of clearness I will state that on and after September 1st, 1912, in accordance with the agreement between me and my creditors, no item of any description will be charged. In other words, every order will have to be sent out C. O. D. Having heretofore been free to do as I pleased concerning the disposition of my goods, it comes hard to have to make the above admission. Nevertheless, it is a true status of my affairs, and I am going to ask every loyal friend and patron to stand by me with their cash trade, and thereby help me to pull through, and get on my feet again.

And right here I wish to say that by doing so you will not only help me, but you will also help yourself, because selling for cash will enable me to buy my goods more cheaply, and, in turn, I shall sell them to you at a lesser rate. In fact, there will be many advantages offered you that I have been unable to offer before, because most of my time has been spent trying to get together moneys sufficient to satisfy my creditors, but now that I have failed in many instances and the store's policy is, of necessity, to be changed, I am going to spend my time trying to please all my customers.

Postage stamps and cards will be added to my line, and when an order for merchandise is given at the same time, they will be delivered to your home.

As to the accounts due me: I am going to ask all those who are indebted to call or send in before September 10th and make settlements and receive a discount of five per cent. By doing so, you will enable me to keep my pact with those I owe—and at the same time it will give you a feeling of relief, as no one likes to have bills hanging over them.

Again asking you for your patronage on the new basis, I am, with an earnest desire to please,

Yours Very Respectfully,

JAMES M. HALL.

GAME FARMING, NEW INDUSTRY

Occupation That Has Many Possibilities—Those Who Take Interest in Wild Things—Europe's Book of Experience.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New York, August 31.—Game farming is a comparatively new occupation in the United States. It should be remembered, however, that until a short time ago scientific forestry was practically unknown. Both are destined to play a large part in our economic life, and the former is especially important in its bearing on the cost of living.

The energies of those of our citizens who take an interest in wild things have been mostly expended in shoting and exterminating them. In this they have been so successful that during the last twenty years many States have found themselves practically barren of the wild life that once furnished food and a means of healthful recreation to their inhabitants. Obviously something had to be done to remedy this state of affairs. Sportsmen were out good money every year for hunting licenses and it seemed incumbent on the game commissioners to furnish them with something to hunt. Otherwise the office would have become a superflouous one.

Accordingly they took a leaf out of Europe's book of experience and started in to raise game. As pheasants had been successfully propagated in the Old Country for senturies, an had already gained a foothold in Washington and Oregon, they not unnaturally turned to these birds to lead them out of their rifficulties. They wanted results and they had to have them quickly. There was no time for experimenting with our native birds which might, or might not, thrive in confinement.

The different state farms have had good success with pheasants. In some parts of the country there is now very fair pheasant shooting, but people began to ask why so much money was being expended on foreign birds when we have in our native quail, ruffed grouse, and wild turkeys some of the best game birds in the world.

In response to this query, scattered attempts were made at rearing indigenous species, but from the outset they have been best by serious difficulties. That as yet little understood malady the quail disease, nas killed hundreds of birds hatched in captivity. Ruffed grouse and turkeys have also proved delicate when removed from their natural environment. However, a few people have been notably successful in raising these birds. They have realized that the problem is one which must be approached in the scientific spirit and studiede arefully. They remembered that the game keepers of Europe belong to a race of game keepers and that the secrets of success in rearing European game birds have been handed down from father to son for hundreds of years. They were not dismayed, then, because they failed at the beginning, and each year sees more people attacking the problem, a solution of which will make it possible to restock the suitable land which can be found in every state of the Union today, with the birds which were once so plentiful.

The most recent experiments in this line conducted on a large scale, are those which are being carried on by the American Game Protective and Propagation Association at its game farm in Massachusetts. The Association has acquired about 6,000 acres near the town of South Carver some forty miles from Boston. The land is ideal for the purpose in hand. It lies six miles from a railroad. Portions of it are heavily wooded, mostly with pine, while there are vast gently roling stretches from which the big timber was burnt off years ago and which are now covered with scrub oak. There are thirty ponds within the boundaries of the preserve. Some of these have soft bottoms and are filled with a rank growth of water weeds making them ideal for ducks. In others the bottoms are composed of hard sand and supply the kind of feeding grounds in which geese delight. These ponds are in the line of flight of both ducks and geese and in the spring and fall they are covered with wild varieties. In the woods and fields there are many grouse and quail, and wild deer are plentiful all over the preserve.

The Association's work commenced this spring and it was a big undertaking, because, like the managers of various state farms, those in charge wished to produce results quickly. Quantities of pheasants, wood, mallard, and pin tail ducks, Canada and snow geese, and wild turkeys were purchased. From these, and some eggs that were bought, hundreds of birds have been raised; but the most interesting feature of the work, and one which will prove the most important if it continues to turn out as successfully as it sas up to the present time, is the rearing of our native quail and grouse.

The authorities of Massachusetts gave the game keepers permission to take the eggs of wild birds and as these abound on the farm there was little difficulty in getting a good supply. At the present time bantam hens may be seen proudly mothering their strange foster children—from quail that look as much like bumble bees as birds, to grouse that are now nearly full grown. Every effort has been made in the handling of these tiny birds to make their surroundings as nearly as possible like what they would have encountered in a wild state. After they are a day or two old the young chicks are allowed to run in the grass around the coop where their mother is confined, in search of insects. They are fed on ant's eggs, fine grain, and chopped egg.

For the older birds which are already strong of wing a large enclosure has been made of fish net. This resembles a circus tent in shape and takes in a rather heavy growth of pine saplings. It is always a source of suprise to the stranger to visit this. On entering there is nothing to be seen but thick brush. To all appearances there is not a single bird in the enclosure, but when the superintendent calls, there is a rustle here and there and the young partridges come walking in from all sides followed by a little black hen scarcely larger than themselves.

The Association hopes to arouse wide-spread interest in raising game birds both native and foreign. Anyone can take it up on a small scale and it is likely to prove profitable. Birds will be distributed free from the Association's farm to applicants who will make proper provision for their protection by placing them on land where there is good cover and by agreeing that there shall be no shooting on this tract. The plan is to secure sanctuaries of this kind all over the country which shall serve as fountain-heads from which the ever-flow will stock the surrounding territory. If the birds are unmolested they will increase so rapidly on a sanctuary that they will be forced to spread out and there will be good shooting in the neighborhood. There will be no danger of their extinction, however, if the rule against killing them on the protected areas is enforced.

The value of game as a food supply is leading more and more people to take up its propagation. Propagated game is the only kind which should be used for market purposes. Because game is sold in Europe at a very low figure, some people in this country have been led, through ignorance of the facts behind the conditions, to advocate the sale of all game in this country, erroneously thinking that a withdrawal of the protective laws would make game cheap. Of course, as is well known, in Europe shooting is only for the rich, but so much game is raised on the large estates by corps of game keepers, and so much is shot by the few who have the privilege, that there is a large surplus to be disposed of. The people are placated for being deprived of the shooting privilege by being allowed to buy game at a surprisingly low figure. Any such institutions as European game preserves would, if they became the rule, be intolerable to American ideas, yet such conditions are inevitable if our wild game is allowed to be slaughtered for the market. Game might be slightly cheaper at first if this were permitted, but it would soon be exterminated everywhere by the market hunters, as it has been already in some places. The game farm offers a solution to two vexing problems, that of free shooting for all, and that of supplying the markets, for both the wild covers and the meat shops may be stocked from this source.

THEATRICAL

The Academy of Music is all spick-and-span for a big opening Tuesday night, and the opening will mark what promises to be the most conspicuous and brilliant season in the history of the Wilmington playhouse. The season will open with a big revival of Denman Thompson's "Old Homestead," and the presentation will be made by a large cast of exceptional excellence. The productions will be lavishly and brilliantly made. Seats for the performance will go on sale at Plummer's tomorrow morning.

Like the breath of real country air laden with the odor of new mown hay and suggesting blue skies and open stretches of country "The Old Homestead" comes to The Academy of Music Tuesday September 3rd. That the patronage will be lage goes without saying, for, although this will be the twenty-seventh season of "The Homestead," it is still a potent magnet and bids fair to continue so for many years to come.

The play itself is as familiar to the majority of theatregoers as a household word. For that reason no description of it is necessary and all that needs to be said is that there is no purer, sweeter or more wholesome play in existence, none of which holds the mirror up to nature more trully, and none which has more real inspiration in its every line and feature than "The Old Homestead." It is simple of plot, deals with homely interest and is replete with genuine humor.

Sunshine and shadow, laughter and tears, humor and pathos—these are the inevitable associates of "The Old Homestead." It makes a direct and immediate appeal to the human heart, for it preaches a sermon of faith, hope and charity. No one seeing it was ever at a loss to explain its perennial popularity. There never was a more beautiful portrayal of home life, a more tender picture of parental love, than is shown in this particular play. No wonder therefore, that, though old, it's ever new, and its popularity continues.

The original company under the personal direction of Mr. Frank Thompson, will be seen here. The famous musical features are of the same high order Mr. Thompson has always provided including the celebrated double male quartette, and Grand Choir of twenty voices in the Grace Church scene.

"AND IF YOU WANT IT TO LOOK GREEN, PUT ON GREEN PAINT."

Scene from "The Old Homestead," Academy, Tuesday Night

At The Bijou

The popular Bijou will celebrate Labor Day in regal way tomorrow. It will enter, as usual, into the jolly spirit of the occasion and will offer one of the biggest holiday bills ever presented in Wilmington. The Bijou also will be gala in other ways and will, of course, be the comfortable spot, being swept by the breeze from many revolving electric fans and thoroughly ventilated. The Bijou never puts up the price no matter the size and importance of its offering, nor because the occasion is a holiday. Hence, tomorrow the same old 5 cent admission will prevail.

The bill tomorrow will certainly be a holiday one, and it will be headed by no less a film star than Mr. John Bunny, the celebrated and high-salaried moving picture comedian. Mr. Bunny will appear in the stellar role of "Mr. Bolter's Infatuation." Now Bolter (Mr. Bunny) falls in love with an actress, while she is in his village town. On her invitation he goes to New York to visit her at the Hotel des Imbeciles. Of course, there is no such a hotel, and the mix-ups fat Bunny gets into are screams for laughter.

Another star will be a great dramatic story of lower California, in the old days. It is called "The Little Indian Martyr." It is a stirring, beautiful tale of the old missions.

Another big dramatic masterpiece is also on tomorrow in "The Government Test." It is a thrilling story of railroad life, with schemes and plots of officials and the venom of a discharged employe. The race to save the train and what happened are indeed thrillers.

Labor Day observance will hardly be complete tomorrow without a visit to the amusement palace—the Bijou.

The Grand Theatre.

The Grand Theatre will open the new week with another stronge bill in the moving and the always natural attractions of the place with these films, shown draw immense crowds, especially at the small price of admission now charged—five cents to any part of the house day or night.

One of the features for Monday will be a big Inidian film, "The Ancient Bow," a Vitagraph of splendid beauty and strong dramatic interesy. John Strong, a wealthy bachelor is traveling in tse West and what they encounter out on the plains and in the abode of the Indian is vividly portrayed in this feature film.

The other feature for Monday is "The Sand Storm." Joe Brooks was once a gentleman but through drink becomes a derelict, finds a girl who has fainted on the street and takes her into a saloon to revive her. There a drunken comboy insults the girl and the manhood of the derelicts asserts itself. It is a beautiful story by tse Lubin people, graphically told and will be sure to attract attention.

MEN BEHIND GUNS

What Is Being Done In Busy Democratic Headquarters

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New York, August 31.—Chairman William F. McCombs, of the Democratic National Committee left today for a vacition in the Adirondack mountains.

Mr. McCombs has been spending the past week at the home of his sister on Long Island. His friends believe that complete rest in the mountains will restore his health so that he may return to the work of conducting the Democratic campaign.

Col. Robert Ewing, National Committeeman from Louisiana and chairman of the Press Contribution Bureau, will transfer his headquarters from New York to Chicago. The work of raising funds for Wilson and Marshall through the daily press will be carried on vigorously from the western headquarters.

Col. Ewing announced that 800 weekly papers and 210 daily papers have now opened their columns to contributions.

The Democratic Handbook, or Democratic Campaign Book for 1912, has been completed and the first issue will be off the press August 31st. This book was issued by a committee composed of Josephus Daniels, chairman of the Publicity Bureau; J. T. Lloyd, Congressional chairman, and Robert W. Woolley. The chief work in the preparation of the Text Book was done by Mr. Woolley who gained a country-wide reputation in the Stanley investigation. It will be by all odds the best and most interesting document ever turned out by a campaign committee. The book contains 416 pages and every page is a good Democratic argument. The book will be on sale at 25 cents a copy after September 1st.

Acting Chairman W. G. McAdoo, of the National Committee, has issued an order notifying employes of the Democratic National Committee that Labor Day will be observed by the closing of the headquarters.

OAK RIDGE OPENING

Fall Term Begins on Tuesday—Everything Is Ready

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Oak Ridge, N. C., Aug. 31.—The Fall term of Oak Ridge Institute will open Tuesday, with the most flattering prospects. Every indication is that the school will be crowded to an extent never known before. The registration for rooms is practically complete, but other arrangements are being made for the overflow.

The faculty will continue this year as last, with one exception. Prof. G. C. Kirksey, of Morganton, takes the place of Prof. John W. Hester, of Granville, who retires to take up the study of law.

The grounds and buildings present a very inviting appearance. All have been treated during the Summer to a new coat of paint, and the recent rains have brought out the grass to an emerald green, greatly intensifying its beauty.

The faculty, which has been pretty much scattered during the Summer vacation, are putting in their appearance again already, and will be on hand at the opening to greet the large body of old students and the many new ones who will be on hand.

A number of volumes will be added to the library, and plans are being considered for the building of a new gymnasium, with water for shower baths, etc.

New York, August 30.—Acting Chairman McAdoo, of the Democratic National Committee, said today that a surprisingly large number of banks had responded to a recent letter which he sent out asking that popular subscriptions to the campaign funds of all parties be received and forwarded by the banks. He exhibited a list of 42 banks from whom acceptances have already been received and one which had refused. The latter, the National Bank of Commerce of Boston, requested that full publicity be given its refusal, as it held that banks should keep aloof from politics.

BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

LOW GRADE VETCH.

Low Grade Seed Being Offered by Wholesale Dealers.

The Secretary of Agriculture has issued a warning to propective purchasers of hairy vetch seed against certain lots of low grade which are now being offered by wholesalers to the smaller dealers.

The greater part of the hairy vetch used in the United States has thus far been imported from Europe. Among recent importations there are a number of seed of low quality, containing from fifteen to eighty per cent of hairy vetch seed, the balance being made up either of cultivated forms of spring vetch, which are not hardy in the Northern States, or of various species of wild vetches, of doubtful value for agricultural purpose. This low-grade seed is now being offered by wholesalers to smaller dealers throughout the country and is thus being widely distributed.

The price of hairy vetch seed is higher this year than in any previous year, due largely to the increasing demand for this seed as the advantages of hairy vetch as a winter cover crop are becoming known. With the present high price of seed it is especially important that persons wishing to sow hairy vetch should obtain only pure seed, as the money paid for poor seed is wasted and a failure of the crop is sure to follow its use.

Persons unfamiliar with the botanical characters by which hairy vetch seed can be definitely distinguished from the seed by the other vetches that are used as adulterants can in most cases avoid the use of adulterated seed by carefully examining the seed for points of distinction.

The seed of hairy vetch is spherical, varying from 3 32 to 5 32 of an inch in diameter, with an average diameter of approximately 1-8 of an inch.

The seeds of most of the other vetches are more or less irregular in form, being lense shaped or flattened at the ends where they were crowded together in the pot. They vary in size, some being smaller and others larger than hairy vetch. By spreding a small quantity of the mixed seed thinly of a piece of cardboard or other smooth surface, and tilting it slightly with a gently shaking motion, the hairy vetch seeds, which are spherical, will roll off leaving behind most of the seeds which are used as adulterants.

Hairy vetch seed is dull grayish-black with a greenish tinge when the seed is fresh, although this greenish tinge is not present in imported seed which is usually at least one year old when it is offered for sale in this country.

The seeds of the other vetches found mixed with hairy vetch seed vary greatly in color, some being light gray mottled with brown and black, some uniformly brown, and others glossier and blacker than hairy vetch.

The color of the crushed seeds is also an indication of the presence or absence of adulterants. The crushed seed of hairy vetch is a bright lemon-yellow in color.

The seeds which are used as adulterants of hairy vetch seed for the most part vary in color from a dark fawn to a reddish-orange or salmon color. If a small amount of seed is crushed the presence of any other color than bright lemon-yellow indicates the seed is adulterated.

If the seed is not spherical it is not hairy vetch;

If the seed is not uniformily a grayish-black color with a greenish tinge in fresh seed it is not hairy

If the inside of the broken seeds is not lemon color it is not hairy vetch;

By a careful examination of any seed offered for sale with the above suggestions in mind, any one can be fairly sure of discovering the presence of adulterants. If there is still any doubt, samples should be sumitted to the nearest state experiment station or seed testing laboratory for critical examination. Further information will be found in the following forthcoming publications: Bureau of Plant Industry Circular 102, Production of hairy Vetch Seed, and Farmers' Bulletin 515, Vetches.

THE NATIONAL PARKS.

Superintendents and Others Interested in National Beauty Confer.

On September 11th and 12th, 1911, there was held at Yellowstone National Park a conference of National park superintendents, officials of the Department of the Interior supervision over National park affairs, representatives of other branches of the Federal Government whose work brings them into relation with the National parks, concessioners in the parks, and representatives of the railroads directly interested in the transportation of tourists to the parks. This conference served as a medium for the exchange of ideas and suggestions for the betterment of the National parks and has been productive of much improvement in their administration.

The Secretary of the Interior has decided to hold a second conference at the Yosemite National Park, California, early in October, the exact date of which is contingent upon the return of the Secretary from Honolulu, probably between the 7th and the 14th of October. This second conference will be along the same general lines as the Yosemite conference of last year, including discussion of road building, general administration, sanitation, et cetera, and particular attention will be given to the question of the admission of automobiles to the parks from which they are now barred. The only persons going from Washington are Mr. Clement S. Ucker, chief clerk of the Department, who will act as secretary of the conference, and Mr. Frank Bond, chief clerk of the General Land Office, who has charge of national monuments under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Interior.

ANNUAL WASTE OF MINERALS

Quarter Billion Tons Coal, Great Volume Natural Gas and Other Valuable Products, Says Dr. Joseph A. Holmes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Washington, August 31. — "During the last year, in producing half a billion tons of coal, we wasted or left under ground, in such condition that it probably will not be recovered in the future, a quarter of a billion tons of coal; we turned loose into the atmosphere a quanitty of natural gas larger than the total output of artificial gas during the same period in all the towns and cities of the United States; we also wasted or lost in the mining, preparation and treatment of other important metalliferous and non-metalliferous minerals from 10 to 50 per cent of the year's production of such minerals."

The above is the startling manner in which Dr. Joseph A. Holmes, director of the United States Bureau of Mines, describes some of the losses in the yearly production of two billion dollars worth of minerals in the United States.

The words of the director are a general summing up of a statement just issued by the Bureau in which an inventory of the various cineral wastes are given and in which the Bureau shows how millions and millions of dollars may be saved to the people of this country through the right sort of conservation of its resources.

The general statement, written by Charles L. Parson, chief mineral chemist of the Bureau contains the charge that many valuable mineral deposits are lying idle, while the products are being imported from other countries. Mr. Parsons further declares that through wasteful use of certain of the minerals, the ultimate exhaustion and dissipation of some of the important useful minerals of today from the standpoint of the race and in the light of present knowledge, is in sight. He urges that many deposits of ores of such low grade that they cannot be mined—today should be left in position so that they can be mined in the future, as many ores, formerly of too low-grade to work with profit, are now sources of wealth. The wastes of the past are daily being converted into the dividends of the present, he declares.

In referring to the waste in the mining and use of coal, Mr. Parsons says: "The wastes of carbon in our modern economy are almost incomprehensible. In mining coal in this country, probably one-third of the bituminous coal and one-half of the anthracite are left in the mine. Fully 80,000,000 tons of anthracite is now being left behind in the mine each year, and it is estimated that since mining began in this country fully two billion tons of anthracite and three billion tons of bituminous coal have been left in the ground under conditions which make future recovery highly improbable.

"After coal is mined, the losses by no means cease, although some of the culm that formerly went to waste by millions of tons is now being used. Probably not over eleven per cent of the energy in coal is being effectively utilized. The remainder of the energy is lost through the inefficiency of the steam boiler, the steam engine and the electric dynamo.

"It is estimated that the boiler scale in locomotives in this country means a loss of over 15,000,000 tons of coal annually. It has been shown that one-sixteenth of an inch of scale means a loss of 25 per cent in boiler efficiency. The sicentific control of the combustion of coal under boilers is constantly increasing, but the losses of carbon that is still pouring from our chimneys, defacing monuments, buildings and landscape are without valid reason."

Mr. Parsons says that the losses in making of coke by the old-fashioned process wasted $40,000,00 in the United States last year. He calls this an entirely needless and seemingly ruthless loss. He declares that these coke ovens, without taking into account the value of the by-products that were possible, wasted more than one million horsepower in the year. All this loss might be prevented by the use of modern methods, he says.

"The dust from stacks and chimneys of all kinds," says Mr. Parsons, "is often not only a great waste of valuable material, but is one of the great evils of modern civilization. Valuable matelliferous dusts are strewn broadcast from the stacks of our smelters; gases and poisonous solids destroy vegetable and animal life; and masses of black smoke pour from our chimneys and settle in clouds over many of our cities, rendering them exceedingly disabreeable and unsightly. Even with present knowledge, practically all dust nuisance are preventable, and legislation the country over is diminishing the dust output fro msmelters, cement plants, and from smoking chimneys, often with the result that the collection of dust incident to smoke prevention becomes a source of profit.

"Almost inestimable losses of sulphur, arsenic and bismuth are now taking place in the flue dusts and flue gases.

"In proportion to output the losses of zinc are probably greater than those of any other metal, and are especially important because there is almost no recovery of zinc from manufactured products and almost no conservation of zinc by accumulation. Besides these losses in the mining and concentration of zinc ores, there are incalculable losses, which without question run into many millions of dollars and undoubtedly exceed the total value of the zinc mined, in slags and waste products from other processes. Zinc has been and in general still is, considered about the worst impurity to be found in the ores of copper and lead, for it has always given trouble in their metallurgy.

"In combined, but unfortunately in relatively insoluble form, there are unlimited supplies of potash in this country. Because no methods are known for economically obtaining the potash we are obliged to import from Germany about $15,000,000 worth each year. Potash is absolutely essential, and unless methods can be found for obtaining it from domestic supplies, we shall be obliged to purchase it from Germany at a price at least 400 per cent more than the cost of delivery in New York.

"Our waste of nitrogen, worth in combined form about fifteen cents per pound, are almost inconceivable, and no calculation can give us a real idea of what these losses mean. Although we produced last year over 406,000,000 tons of bituminous coal, we recovered only $3,800,000 worth of the $160,000,000 worth of recoverable nitrogen in the coal.

"Of course, it is entirely impracticable under present conditions to recover as ammonia all of the nitrogen that might be obtained, but it does seem most regrettable that of 63,000,000 tons of coal converted into coke in 1910, containing $22,000,000 worth of recoverable nitrogen, only about one-sixth was treated in ovens or retorts which could make that recovery possible. The rest of the nitrogen in the coal went off as free nitrogen in the air. It is estimated that since the first by-product coke oven was built in this country in 1893 and up to the present time, the coke coked in the old-fashioned beehive ovens where the nitrogen was ruthlessly wasted in fire has amounted to about 816,000,000,000 tons. Had this been coked in by-product ovens the volatile nitrogen of the coal would have yielded twenty-three pounds of ammonium sulphate per ton or a total of 9,315,000 tons, which at $60 a ton would have had a value of $558,900,000. But this would not be all. Had this ammonia been recovered, it would have been used on the soil as a fertilizer and the crops would have increased fully 20 per cent and the saving would have been many millions more.

"The waste and the utilization of sulphur are both enormous and, depend largely on local conditions. We produce sulphur cheaper than any other country in the world, sell it at perhaps the highest price, and in the form of sulphur dioxide discharge it in the air from the stack of a single smelter in quantities almost as large as those utilized throughout the country from sulphur and domestic pyrite put together. If the sulphur discharged into the air from this one smelter were converted into sulphuric acid it would furnish more than enough sulphuric acid for the total fertilizer industry of the United States. This country is producing annually about 3,000,000 tons of sulphuric acid—the basis of all chemical industry—of which approximately one-half is used in the manufacture of fertilizers. The total amount of sulphur dioxide discharged into the air in this country would unquestionably suffice to make more than 8,000,000 tons of sulphuric acid."

AN INTERESTING BROCHURE

"America Fro ma Touring Car" Just Published by Club

"Thousands of Americans never knew their country until the advent of the motor car. Its Switzerlands, its Rhines, its Italian lakes, were sung only in the prose or verse of pioneers, who by wagon trail, on horse, or in canoe had penetrated regions fair as Europe at her best can boast."

"From railway car window, the traveler might catch a mile-a-minute glimpse of mountain, valley or plain; but the spirit of discovery, the impulse to go into the back country, to know its quaint byways, its hills and dales and babbling streams, came with the automobile."

Such is the introduction of the brochure entitled "America from a Touring Car," which has just been issued by the Touring Club of America, Broadway at 76th street, New York, containing interesting descriptions of the most popular touring sections of this country, including "Motor Trails of the Empire State," "New England as a Touring Ground," "Journeys through Pennsylvania, New Jersey and the South," "Highways of the Middle West" and "Across the Rockies to the Golden Gate." Following these entertaining articles, which are from the pen of Foster Gilroy, is a description of the Automobile Blue Books, also a history of the Touring Club of America, outlining the organization's activities, its purposes and objects and the many benefits to be derived through membership in this progressive body. The last chapter is given to the official appointments of the Touring Club of America include hundreds of the leading hostleries and garages in America and Europe recommended to tourists in their travels. A list of the departments and the branches of the Touring Club is also given, showing how the club has extended its activities until it is now represented by touring bureaus in more than a score of cities in the United States and a Canadian bureau at Montreal, Canada.

Automobiles interested in this brochure may obtain copies upon application to the Touring Club of America, Broadway, at 76th street, New York.
